Lady Whistledown's SOCIETY PAPERS

Tuesday, April 6, 1813

EXTRAORDINARY PEOPLE. EXTRAORDINARY NEWS

According to the much-loathed poet Lord Byron, it is not the man who is the most interesting, but the woman who is the most interesting. It is a pity that a lady's conversation is so often so dull, and so uninteresting, that it is almost impossible to find a single lady who is not a bore.

TRANSPORTATION

FROM KLIA & KLIA 2

Need to get to the airport from the city? No worries! You've got options. The KLIA Express train runs every day from 5 AM to midnight, taking about 35-40 minutes to reach KLIA and KLIA 2. Tickets cost RM55, but if you travel with friends, you can get a 25% discount.

If you're on a budget, you can hop on the Airport Coach bus or Aero bus. The bus fares range from about RM10 to RM14, and they run pretty frequently throughout the day.

Taxis are available too, but they can be expensive, costing anywhere from RM80 to RM200. For a more affordable and comfortable ride, you can use Grab. They offer fixed-rate options starting from around RM65.

So, whether you prefer the train, bus, taxi, or Grab, there's a way to get to the airport that suits your needs and budget!

FROM SUBANG SKYPARK TERMINAL

For travelers heading to Subang Airport from KL Sentral, check out the SKYPARK Link trains! They offer fast service within Kuala Lumpur with 32 daily trips, running every 30 to 60 minutes. Right now, there's a promotion, and a single journey from Subang Airport to Kuala Lumpur City costs around RM3.50.

FROM PENANG INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

Planning your trip from Penang to KL? Fly from Penang Airport to KLIA for a quick hour-long journey. Ticket prices range from RM70 to RM650, depending on your preferences. If you're looking for a budget-friendly option, consider taking a bus. Prices start at RM50 to RM60, but be prepared for a longer journey of around seven to eight hours. Driving is another choice, taking approximately six hours, though it can vary based on traffic conditions. Choose the option that suits your budget and schedule.

FROM LANGKAWI INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

Fly from Langkawi International Airport to KLIA in just over an hour, with ticket prices ranging from RM160 to RM200. For an even faster option, consider flights to Subang Airport, taking around 58 minutes. If you prefer a scenic route, take the bus, which includes the ferry to the island. Prices range from RM118 to RM176 per person.

FROM KOTA KINABALU INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

To travel from Sabah to KL, your best bet is air travel. From Kota Kinabalu International Airport (KKIA) to KLIA, expect a flight duration of around 2 hours and 25 minutes. Ticket prices typically range from RM380 to RM1380. Enjoy your journey!

FROM KUCHING INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

Looking to fly from Kuching to KL? The flight typically takes about 2 hours and 45 minutes. Kuching International Airport, located 11 kilometers south of the city center, offers connections to KL through airlines like Malaysia Airlines, Air Asia, and Batik Air. Ticket prices range from RM289 to RM581.

ALTERNATE WAY TO KL CITY CENTER

Train

For a quick and convenient journey from the airport to the city center, hop on the KLIA Express train! It only takes around 28 minutes to reach KL Sentral, and tickets are priced at a reasonable RM55. You can purchase tickets online or at KL Sentral. Plus, enjoy high-speed onboard WiFi and a complimentary porter service on relevant platforms.

Additionally, Kuala Lumpur offers various rail services such as MRT, LRT, KL Monorail, and KTM for seamless transportation within the city center. Get around easily and explore all that Kuala Lumpur has to offer!

rapidKL

Bus

Buses offer the most budget-friendly transportation option between airports and the city, with a fleet of 44 air-conditioned coaches known for their safety and comfort. Fares can be as low as RM15 per passenger, and although travel times may vary, the average duration to reach the city is around 1 hour and 15 minutes.

Moreover, RapidKL buses provide feeder services to MRT, LRT, and Monorail stations, facilitating convenient transportation within the Klang Valley and to KL City. Various companies like Go KL, Smart Selangor, and PJ City offer unique services, including free bus options. Explore Kuala Lumpur affordably and comfortably with these diverse bus services!

Taxi

Taxis, although still a viable option, have lost popularity due to their higher fares compared to e-hailing services. Locals tend to avoid taxis because of their unpredictable pricing and elevated costs. When opting for a taxi, passengers are recommended to negotiate and establish meter usage upfront to avoid excessive charges. Generally, the initial fare is approximately RM3 for the first kilometer, with an extra charge of RM0.20 for every 150 meters traveled.

E-Hailing Service

E-hailing services have become incredibly popular in Malaysia, embraced by locals and tourists alike for their reliability and convenience through user-friendly mobile apps. These services offer a quick way to reach destinations, especially during low traffic times. The main draw of e-hailing is the upfront pricing and the inclusion of accident insurance, making it a preferred choice for many. Various apps like GrabCar, AirAsia Ride, InDrive, Kumpool, and more provide these convenient transportation options.

Introduction to KUALA LUMPUR

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia's bustling capital, stands as a testament to modern architecture and cultural diversity, boasting a plethora of attractions.

Covering approximately 243 square kilometers, Kuala Lumpur is experiencing significant population growth and economic progress, ranking as the ninth most visited city worldwide. In 2021, about 25% of Malaysia's population, approximately 2.0 million people, called Kuala Lumpur home. From 2010 to 2020, the city saw a gradual population increase of 2.2%.

Nestled at the meeting point of the Gombak and Klang Rivers, Kuala Lumpur sits 300 kilometers northwest of Singapore and roughly 40 kilometers east of the Strait of Malacca. Its name, "Kuala Lumpur" in Malay, translates to "muddy estuary," paying homage to its location where two rivers converge.

As one of Malaysia's three Federal Territories, alongside Putrajaya and Labuan, Kuala Lumpur has hosted notable events such as the 1998 Commonwealth Games and the 2017 Sea Games.

Looking ahead, Malaysia's GDP appears poised for healthy growth in 2024. In Q3 2023, the gross domestic product (GDP) rose by 3.3%, bringing the growth for the first nine months of 2023 to 3.9%. This aligns with the government's forecast of approximately 4% growth for 2023.

10 Facts

1. Yang di-Pertuan Agong is an Elected Monarch

In Malaysia, although it's not an absolute monarchy, the Yang di-Pertuan Agong is chosen through a unique rotational system for a five-year term by the Conference of Rulers. This process involves the Malay rulers, and the election procedures and regulations are outlined in both the Constitution's Third Schedule and the Conference of Rulers' regulations.

2. Home To The Second Tallest Tower in the World

Did you know that the Merdeka 118 Tower is now the second-tallest structure in the world? It's soaring to a height of 678.9 meters with 118 stories, making it the tallest building in Malaysia. The name "Merdeka 118" comes from its 118 levels. The tower's design is inspired by the outstretched hand gesture of Tunku Abdul Rahman, who famously said "Merdeka!" on Malaysia's Independence Day. This gesture serves as a model and inspiration for the tower's design.

3. KL Was the First Country in Asia to Host the Commonwealth

Kuala Lumpur hosted the Commonwealth Games for the first time in 1998. After that, the 2010 Games were held in Delhi, bringing the event back to Asia once again.

4. Hosted the SEA Games in 2017

Kuala Lumpur was praised for its successful organization of the 2017 SEA Games. This achievement not only raised the nation's profile but also set new records in medal achievements.

5. KL is The Retail and Fashion Hub of Malaysia

With approximately 350 retail malls scattered across the country, Malaysia has become a vibrant shopping destination, with Kuala Lumpur serving as its epicenter. The malls in Kuala Lumpur boast a wide array of brands, offering a diverse range of products such as clothing, accessories, sports gear, and household items.

6. Meaning of Kuala Lumpur

The name "Kuala Lumpur" originates from the Malay words "kuala" and "lumpur," which respectively mean "confluence" and "mud." This name is linked to the point where the Gombak and Klang rivers meet. Kuala Lumpur was established in 1857 when a group of 87 Chinese tin miners promptly set up a settlement at this muddy confluence of rivers. Subsequently, the town was formally named Kuala Lumpur.

7. Parliamentary Democracy System

Malaysia operates under a political system defined by a constitutional monarchy and parliamentary democracy. In this system, the King serves as the sovereign head of state, while the parliament plays a central role as the primary institution responsible for upholding democratic principles and governance.

8. World's Tallest Twin Towers is in KL

The Petronas Twin Towers, the world's tallest twin towers, were among Malaysia's tallest structures until they were surpassed by the recently completed Merdeka 118.

9. Malaysian Government is in Putrajaya

Unlike the traditional setup where the government is centralized in the capital city, Malaysia's government is headquartered in Putrajaya. Putrajaya serves as both the administrative and judicial capital of the country, hosting numerous government offices.

10. The Malaysian King lives in KL@ Istana Negara

Located on Jalan Tuanku Abdul Halim (formerly Jalan Duta) in Kuala Lumpur is the official residence of the Yang di-Pertuan Agong, commonly known as the National Palace or Istana Negara.

A Truly Malaysian Theme Park

Sunway Theme Parks are set to dazzle visitors with an array of spectacular festive events, ensuring memorable experiences for guests of all ages. This year, Sunway Lagoon and Sunway Lost World of Tambun pull out all the stops to celebrate four major festivals with extraordinary flair, for instance both theme parks will be having the biggest musical fireworks in Malaysia.

Chinese New Year

Kicking off the festive calendar is the vibrant Chinese New Year celebration. Sunway Theme Parks will be adorned with red lanterns, intricate dragon decorations, and stunning floral displays. Guests can enjoy traditional lion dances, acrobatic performances, and a variety of festive food stalls offering delectable Chinese delicacies. The highlight will be the spectacular fireworks display lighting up the night sky.

Hari Raya

As Hari Raya approaches, Sunway Theme Parks transforms into a colorful celebration of Malay culture and heritage. Visitors can immerse themselves in the joyous atmosphere with traditional music, dance performances, and a special Raya bazaar featuring artisanal crafts and delicious festive treats. Interactive family-friendly activities will provide fun for everyone.

Deepavali

Deepavali, the Festival of Lights, brings a radiant glow to Sunway Lagoon and Sunway Lost World of Tambun. The park will be illuminated with oil lamps, creating a magical ambience. Guests can enjoy classical Indian dance performances and savor authentic Indian cuisine.

Christmas

Ending the year on a high note, Sunway Theme Parks will host a spectacular Christmas celebration. Visitors can revel in the holiday spirit with beautifully decorated Christmas walkways, enchanting light displays, et cetera. Santa Claus will make special appearances, and kids can enjoy festive workshops, caroling, and seasonal treats.

These festive events highlight Sunway Theme Parks' commitment to celebrating cultural diversity and creating unforgettable experiences for their guests. With something special planned for each celebration, guests are guaranteed a season of joy, wonder, and excitement.

Come join the festivities at Sunway Theme Parks and make memories that will last a lifetime!

HISTORY OF KUALA LUMPUR

The name “Kuala Lumpur,” which signifies “muddy confluence” in Malay, originated from tin miners exploring the Ampang region. Their mining activities brought them to the convergence of the Gombak and Klang rivers, prompting them to name the area Kuala Lumpur. The following is a chronological summary of Kuala Lumpur’s historical development.

1857

A contingent of 87 tin miners conducted exploration in the Kuala Lumpur vicinity, uncovering substantial tin deposits in Ampang.

1862

The swift development of Kuala Lumpur drew miners from diverse locations, resulting in an increase in population as well as conflicts, disputes, and gang rivalries.

1869

Yap Ah Loy, who led the Chinese community in Kuala Lumpur, played a pivotal role in instituting law and order. Additionally, he initiated the establishment of the city’s inaugural school and a refuge for the homeless.

1880

A British representative named Frank Sweetenham formulated an urban development plan to modernize Kuala Lumpur.

1887

Selangor designated Kuala Lumpur as its capital.

1896

Kuala Lumpur became the capital of the Federated Malay States following the union of the four state sultans.

1910

Arthur Benison Hubback, a prolific British colonial architect, was responsible for both the design and construction of Kuala Lumpur’s inaugural railway station.

The city was under Japanese occupation during World War II.

1942

Kuala Lumpur became the capital of the Malayan Federation.

1946

On August 31, Malaysia commemorated its Independence Day, signalling the conclusion of 151 years of British rule as they chose to depart from the nation.

1957

With an approximate population of 500,000, Kuala Lumpur encountered distinct administrative challenges.

1960

Kuala Lumpur was appointed as the capital city of Malaysia.

1963

Ethnic tensions escalated into a comprehensive civil conflict involving the Chinese and Malay communities.

1969

Kuala Lumpur attained the status of a city, becoming the first town in Malaysia to achieve this milestone after gaining independence.

1972

Kuala Lumpur became a Federal Territory with its own government.

1974

Prime Minister Dr. Mahathir initiated the "Vision 2020" program during his tenure, bringing about modernization not only in Kuala Lumpur but across the entire nation.

1981

Malaysia's federal administrative capital was relocated to Putrajaya.

1999

EVENTS HAPPENING

in Kuala Lumpur

From June - August

1 & 2 JUNE - GAWAI

The Gawai Festival is a special celebration for the Dayak people in Sarawak. It happens in June and lasts the whole month, marking the harvest time. During this festival, Dayak culture is on full display, with traditional dances, lots of rice wine called Tuak, and big meals shared among everyone in the longhouse. Even Sarawakians living in other parts of Malaysia might join in, but it's mainly a Sarawak thing, showing off its unique culture and traditions.

17 & 18 JUNE - HARI RAYA HAJI

Although Hari Raya Aidilfitri and Hari Raya Haji share similarities, Hari Raya Haji holds a unique significance in Malaysia. Unlike other celebrations, Hari Raya Haji involves specific religious practices such as sacrificial-slaughtering, known as "korban," along with prayers and the distribution of food to the needy. This customary feast underscores the importance of giving back and serving the community, distinguishing Hari Raya Haji as a distinct and meaningful occasion in Malaysian culture.

31 AUGUST - INDEPENDENCE DAY

On August 31, Malaysia marked its Independence Day, marking the end of 151 years of British rule as they opted to leave the country. Annually, Malaysians celebrate Independence Day either at Dataran Merdeka or in Putrajaya with processions, parades, performances, and more. Even the Yang Di-Pertuan Agong, also known as the King, and Queen attend this significant day.

MODERN ARCHITECTURAL BUILDINGS

Petronas Twin Towers

The Petronas Towers, also referred to as the KLCC Twin Towers, stand as a remarkable 88-storey supertall skyscraper in Kuala Lumpur. Holding the title of the world's tallest structures from 1998 to 2004, they were eventually surpassed by taller buildings in other countries. Nevertheless, they retain the distinction of being the tallest twin towers globally, soaring to a height of 451.9 meters. As one of Malaysia's most iconic landmarks, they continue to captivate with their stunning beauty, particularly when illuminated at night, adding to the allure of Kuala Lumpur's skyline.

Menara YTL

In 2017, the blueprint for the 41-storey Menara YTL was conceptualized. YTL enlisted the expertise of a renowned architect, designer, and consultant to bring their vision to life. Completed in December 2020, the tower has become a striking addition to Kuala Lumpur's skyline, distinguished by its lavish embellishments and monochromatic color palette. The sleek facade of the tower, resembling a crystal-line structure, was achieved through the use of intricately folded glass panels. This artistic approach lends the building a gem-like allure, with its surfaces reflecting light in varying degrees and textures, creating a captivating visual effect.

Introduction to Cultures & Religions in Kuala Lumpur

Malaysia stands out for its remarkable diversity in ethnicity, language, and religion. Each ethnic group typically retains its ancestral customs, fostering a society that embraces a range of ideas, values, and lifestyles. While Malaysian culture generally reflects the Malay majority, significant regional variations exist across the country.

Kuala Lumpur boasts a melting pot of ethnicities, including Malays, Chinese, Indians, and various indigenous groups, with many Borneans now residing in Peninsular Malaysia. Today's culturally varied nation was created by the unique mingling of cultures from the immigrant communities that settled and intermarried locally.

To truly appreciate Kuala Lumpur, it's essential to delve into the unique customs and traditions of Malaysian culture. Exploring cultural sites and learning about the country's heritage beforehand allows for more respectful interactions with locals. The city offers a wide range of cultural attractions, providing ample opportunities to immerse oneself in Malaysian culture.

CULTURAL FESTIVALS

Hari Raya Aidilfitri

In Malaysia, Muslims observe Hari Raya Aidilfitri, a joyous and widely celebrated holiday. This festive occasion marks the end of the holy month of Ramadan, known for its fasting rituals. On the first day of Eid, Muslims gather at the mosque for special prayers. Following prayers, families open their homes to friends and relatives for festive gatherings known as open houses. Hosts prepare lavish feasts for guests to enjoy, spreading joy and unity among loved ones during this special time.

Hari Raya Haji

Although Hari Raya Aidilfitri and Hari Raya Haji share similarities, Hari Raya Haji holds a unique significance in Malaysia. Unlike other celebrations, Hari Raya Haji involves specific religious practices such as sacrificial-slaughtering, known as “korban,” along with prayers and the distribution of food to the needy. This customary feast underscores the importance of giving back and serving the community, distinguishing Hari Raya Haji as a distinct and meaningful occasion in Malaysian culture.

Chinese New Year

Chinese New Year stands as the most prominent Chinese festival in Malaysia, commencing on the first day of the Chinese lunar calendar and extending for 15 days until the Lantern Festival, also known as Chap Goh Meh. During this festive period, Malaysians of Chinese descent wear red attires symbolizing prosperity and exchange “ang pow” (red packets) and mandarin oranges for good fortune. Open Houses are hosted where friends and family gather, enjoying traditional delicacies and witnessing vibrant lion dance performances, adding to the jubilant atmosphere of the celebrations.

Wesak Day

Buddhists in Malaysia celebrate Wesak Day as a significant holiday, which coincides with the full moon in May. This day commemorates the birth of Buddha and serves as a reminder of his enlightenment. It's a time for Buddhists to reflect on his teachings and the essence of being a Buddhist. During this occasion, symbolic acts such as releasing doves and tortoises are performed by Buddhists, representing the liberation of the soul and seeking forgiveness for past-life wrongdoings. Wesak Day holds deep spiritual significance for Buddhists, marking a time of reflection, reverence, and renewal.

Deepavali

Deepavali, or the Festival of Lights, is widely celebrated in Malaysia, marked by the lighting of clay lamps at homes, creating a radiant atmosphere. Colorful paper lanterns and intricate kolam designs adorn houses. The festival emphasizes family visits, heartfelt wishes, and sharing delicious treats, fostering unity and joy.

Thaipusam

Thaipusam, a significant Tamil festival in Malaysia, commemorates the triumph of Lord Muruga. The main event is a grand parade at Batu Caves over three days, drawing thousands seeking blessings. Devotees carry "kavadis," elaborate structures, as acts of penance and gratitude. Thaipusam reflects the devoutness of Malaysia's Tamil communities.

Kaamatan Harvest Festival

The Kadazan-Dusun, Sabah's largest ethnic group, celebrates the Kaamatan Harvest Festival, honoring celestial spirits and harvest blessings. Festivities include local rice wines, ethnic dances, and cultural events. Celebrated in Sabah and by Sabahans in Peninsular Malaysia, it highlights the enduring cultural heritage and unity of the Kadazan-Dusun community.

Gawai Festival

The Gawai Festival, celebrated by Sarawak's Dayak community, honors the harvest season. Lasting from June 1st to month-end, it showcases Dayak culture with Tuak rice wine, traditional dances, and communal meals. Gawai Festival is primarily observed within the state of Sarawak, but Sarawakians living in Peninsular Malaysia may also partake in the celebrations. It primarily reflects Sarawak's cultural identity and traditions.

Christmas

Christmas, celebrated joyously in Malaysia and globally, commemorates Jesus Christ's birth. Despite the lack of a "white Christmas," Malaysia embraces the festive season with enthusiasm as well. In December, most places are adorned with festive decorations, enhancing the joyful atmosphere and spreading holiday cheer nationwide.

PLACES OF WORSHIP - CHRISTIAN

St Mary's Cathedral Kuala Lumpur

St. Mary's Cathedral, one of the oldest churches in the Klang Valley, was officially opened by a bishop in 1887. Recognizing the need for a larger structure, they started planning in 1893. The foundation stone was laid by an important British official in 1894. In 1970, coinciding with the establishment of the diocese of West Malaysia, the Bishop of West Malaysia relocated to St. Mary's Church. Today, this historic church has evolved into a popular tourist destination in Kuala Lumpur.

Surrounding the text are various summer-themed items: a white starfish, a pair of dark sunglasses, a colorful beach ball, a striped beach umbrella, and a striped beach towel. The title 'KL FOR KIDS' is prominently displayed in the center, with 'KL' in large white letters and 'FOR KIDS' in smaller, multi-colored letters.

KL FOR KIDS

Kuala Lumpur is an ideal destination for families, especially those with young children, offering a variety of kid-friendly activities and cultural experiences. The city boasts attractions tailored for children, allowing them to learn about culture while being entertained. To help families navigate the city, a list of notable cultural sites, family-friendly restaurants, shopping centers, festivals, and special events has been compiled. Kuala Lumpur is recognized as one of Asia's most family-friendly cities, with air-conditioned spaces, paved walkways, and pedestrian zones making it easy to explore with toddlers in strollers.

Parents seeking both entertainment and education for their children will appreciate the city's numerous interactive and instructive settings. Traveling to such locations allows parents to fulfill two goals simultaneously—exploring new places while enhancing their children's learning experiences.

Planning a family-friendly itinerary that includes these recommended locations is advised for a memorable and enjoyable trip to Kuala Lumpur.

INTRODUCTION TO SHOPPING IN

Kuala Lumpur

Shopping plays a big role in tourism, and the Secretariat Shopping Malaysia (SSM) aims to make Malaysia a top-notch shopping destination for both locals and international visitors. Kuala Lumpur has a bunch of shopping malls, with over 190 in the Klang Valley and more than 50 in KL alone. These malls aren't just for buying things – they've turned into places where people hang out, have fun, and do various activities.

In Malaysia, where the weather is hot, locals love going to malls to escape the heat and enjoy the air conditioning. Even if some folks don't plan on buying anything, they still like to go window shopping because it makes them feel good and happy.

KL is known for affordable shopping, so tourists, both local and foreign, often come with empty suitcases. You can even try bargaining for better prices in certain places. Luxury malls like Pavilion and Suria KLCC boast international brands like Jimmy Choo and Louis Vuitton.

If malls aren't your thing, there are plenty of local markets in KL offering good deals on unique items at reasonable prices. Day and night markets, as well as flea markets, are popular spots filled with people. Check out our list of shopping places in KL for your visit.

Must - Buy

Souvenirs in Kuala Lumpur

Baju Kebaya

The Baju Kebaya is traditionally worn by Malaysian women. The Kebaya is quite similar to the Baju Kurung, which is also the Malay women's traditional clothing. However, the Kebaya is a top that opens at the front and is typically made from thin materials like brocade, cotton, gauze, lace, or voile. Embroidery may also be used as decoration. Either buttons, pins, or brooches are used to fasten the front. The bottom part of the clothing, also known as the sarong, is a long piece of fabric that is either made of batik or songket and is wrapped and tucked around the waist.

Hand-Woven Crafts

Several different rattan-woven products, including elegant hardwood baskets, fans, placemats, tiny woven wallets or purses, and many more, are produced in Malaysia. To express your gratitude for the people who passionately made these beautiful handcrafted woven items, don't forget to purchase them.

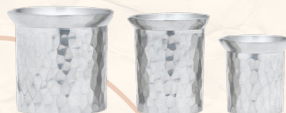

Batik

Batik, a cherished art form deeply rooted in Malay culture, involves applying vibrant wax-resist colors onto plain fabric. Traditional designs feature floral motifs like flowers and leaves, though modern variations incorporate geometrical shapes and spirals. Over time, batik has evolved into a distinct art form in Malaysia, reflecting its rich heritage and cultural significance.

Pewter Goods

Pewter, a malleable metal alloy, comprises tin, antimony, copper, bismuth, and sometimes silver. Malaysians commonly incorporate pewter into their daily routines, particularly for religious practices. Royal Selangor International Sdn Bhd stands as the world's largest pewter manufacturer, offering a wide array of pewterware products including tableware, tankards, tea sets, photo frames, desk accessories, and more.

Labu Sayong

Labu Sayong is the name of a traditional ceramic craft. It can take on many different shapes, like the gourd-shaped porcelain water jugs known as jars. It's also one of the most popular and well-known presents among visitors. They help to keep drinking water at a cool temperature. Labu Sayong is also recognised to provide health benefits. The Central Market in KL is where one may get these excellent things.

GASTRONOMIC

⇒ Delight ⇐

Malaysia's rich cultural diversity significantly shapes its culinary landscape. Malaysian cuisine is incredibly diverse, drawing heavily from Chinese, Indian, and native Malay cooking techniques. These influences are evident in the use of woks as primary cooking utensils, the incorporation of various spices, and the remarkable flavor combinations that meld textures, tastes, and colors using a wide range of ingredients.

In travel, the people, the scenery, and the cuisine stand out as the three key elements with immense potential for exploration. We extend a warm welcome to visitors in Malaysia, encouraging them to seize the opportunity to savor a variety of the country's cuisines, creating delightful and lasting memories to bring back home.

Distinctive in its flavors due to the presence of multiple ethnic groups, Malaysian cuisine presents authentic Malay eateries alongside a plethora of Chinese and Indian restaurants. Thus, it's highly recommended to indulge in the delectable local delicacies that are exclusive to Malaysia!

FOODS IN KL dishes

Chicken Rice

Chicken rice consists of fragrant rice, flavorful chicken, and soup. This dish showcases tender white chicken, delicately sautéed and poached before being sliced into bite-sized pieces. Served with a garlic-chilli dip, garnished with coriander, and topped with sesame oil, chicken rice is readily found throughout Kuala Lumpur, ranging from street vendors to high-end restaurants. It's a must-try culinary delight during your trip!

Ikan Bakar

Ikan Bakar means 'grilled fish' and it is a type of dish that is grilled using charcoal. This delicious dish can be found in Malaysia, Indonesia and various other South-east Asian countries. It is one of the popular dishes in Malaysia as it is also a staple dish for all seafood lovers. Before being placed on the hot grill, the fish is wrapped in banana leaves and seasoned with a spice marinade.

Hokkien Mee

Hokkien Mee is one of the popular noodle dishes in Southeast Asia, especially in Malaysia. This dish is a savoury dish with chewy noodles smothered in a sweet salty soy sauce with prawns, pork belly, cabbage, and gailan. For the halal version, the pork and lard is replaced with halal ingredients instead. This dish has an origin of China's Fujian province.

Satay

Satay is a famous Malaysian street food of seasoned, skewered and grilled meat that is served with peanut sauce dip. This dish is actually similar to kebabs but without the sliced vegetables. The satay uses juicy slices of marinated beef on thin bamboo skewers. Then, it is grilled to perfection on a charcoal open fire. You are able to use different types of meat of your choice such as chicken, beef, pork meat, and so on.

MUST EAT

FOODS IN KL Snacks

Apam Balik

One of Malaysia's favourite snacks is apam balik. There are several varieties of this sweet treat, which has Chinese origins, that may be found at any apam balik roadside stall in Malaysia. A thick and fluffy pancake known as an apam balik can be filled with a variety of ingredients, including sugar and butter, nestum, peanut butter, chocolate, sweet cream-style corn, and others.

Cakoi

Malaysians adore the common snack known as cakoi. It is a long, golden-brown snack made of fried dough that is generally eaten for breakfast or tea with rice porridge, starch, or soybeans. Moreover, it can be consumed with kaya pandan as a dip. This food is available at both morning and evening street markets. It is better to consume the cakoi while it is still hot or warm because it is typically deep-fried.

Keropok Lekor

Keropok Lekor, a type of fish sausage, is a common fish cracker snack that originated in the state of Terengganu. It is prepared using fish and sago flour and is salted and sweetened. It has a slightly greyish colour and emits a fishy flavour and smell, which are more noticeable when it cools after being fried. This is often eaten during tea time or just as a snack. You are also able to eat this snack with cheese as well.

Rojak

Rojak, a popular Malaysian snack, consists of a mix of sliced fruits and vegetables served with a slightly spicy palm sugar dressing, often with sambal belacan. The dish offers a fusion of spicy, sweet, and salty flavors. Rojak Penang is a variation that includes acidic fruits like unripe mangoes and green apples, along with jambu air, guava, squid fritters, and honey. The sauce is typically thick and toffee-like in consistency.

MUST EAT

FOODS IN KL Dessert

Ice Cream Malaysia

Ais Krim Malaysia is a unique type of ice cream popular among Malaysian school students for its ease of consumption and variety of flavors. Made using special plastic bags and a funnel, the mixture is poured in, tied, and frozen overnight. To enjoy, simply cut the top of the plastic bag and indulge in the frozen treat directly.

Tau Foo Fah

Tau Foo Fah is a beloved Malaysian dessert made from tofu, cherished for its smooth texture. Served with a sweet syrup made from either sugar or brown sugar, it's a popular treat found at hawker stalls in night markets. While typically served warm, some enjoy it chilled as well.

ABC

ABC, also known as Ais Kacang, is a popular Malaysian delicacy. It is made up of shaved ice, red beans, jelly, and sweet syrup. Some will also add fruits or sweet corn to the ABC for a more unique twist to it. Traditionally, an ice shaving machine, which was formerly hand-cranked but is now more commonly motorised, is used to churn out the shaved ice used in the dessert.

Cendol

Cendol is a refreshing dessert consisting of palm sugar syrup, coconut milk, and green rice flour jelly. It can be customized with various toppings like durian, fermented sweet cassava (tapai), jackfruit, dragon fruit, and chocolate syrup. Perfect for hot weather, cendol offers a delightful cold sensation.

Introduction to

KL

Night life

Kuala Lumpur's vibrant nightlife offers a variety of activities despite Malaysia being a predominantly Muslim nation. The city transforms at night, bustling with activity and boasting numerous pubs, bars, clubs, and upscale rooftop bars. Rooftop bars, in particular, are popular among late-night travelers, providing breathtaking views of the city from high-rise buildings. These establishments, set above the streets, contribute to some of the best nightlife experiences in KL. The nightlife scene includes elegant restaurants, cocktail lounges, dance clubs, and discos, offering diverse options for those seeking entertainment. Areas like Changkat Bukit Bintang and TREC feature Western-style bars and pubs attracting a younger, party-centric crowd. Additionally, suburbs like Bangsar host cocktail bars and late-night speakeasies, creating a welcoming atmosphere. The nightlife in KL extends late into the night, with DJ dance music filling the air until the early morning hours. Overall, Kuala Lumpur offers a plethora of exciting and enjoyable nightlife experiences in various neighborhoods.

REST & RELAX

IN KUALA LUMPUR

Taking time to relax is different from simply resting. When we actively relax, it can help decrease stress, boost our mood, and enhance our cognitive abilities. It is important to prioritize both rest and relaxation in order to maintain optimal well-being. After a long and demanding day, it is recommended to take some time to unwind and recharge. One great way to do this is by treating yourself to a spa day, especially in vibrant cities like Kuala Lumpur. There are numerous traditional spa treatments available in Kuala Lumpur, and here are 2 of the many types offered!

TYPE OF TRADITIONAL SPA & TREATMENT

Cupping Therapy

Cupping Therapy, also known as bekam in Malay, is a traditional treatment that has a lot of benefits. It is an alternative medicine that uses heated suction cups on the skin that are placed on the skin to remove toxins from the surface of the skin.

Balinese Massage

The Balinese Massage consists of influence from the traditional medicine systems of India, China and Southeast Asia and stimulates the movement of blood, oxygen, and energy (Qi) around your body and promotes deep relaxation by combining mild stretches, acupressure, reflexology, and aromatherapy.

MEDICAL TOURISM IN KUALA LUMPUR

Individuals who travel abroad for medical purposes are known as medical tourists. Traditionally, this term referred to patients from less developed countries seeking treatment in more advanced nations. However, in recent years, people have increasingly traveled solely for more affordable medical services offered abroad. Malaysia has gained recognition as a medical tourism destination due to its high-quality and cost-effective treatments. The country's two-tier healthcare system, comprising a tax-financed public sector and a privatized system, is considered among the world's best. With heavily subsidized healthcare in public facilities, Malaysia attracts hundreds of thousands of medical tourists annually. The nation's healthcare professionals, particularly doctors, are highly qualified and trusted, providing excellent care to patients. If seeking medical advice or treatments, Malaysia's healthcare system is recommended for its quality and affordability.

ACCOMMODATION IN KUALA LUMPUR

Kuala Lumpur offers a diverse range of accommodations, from chalets to luxurious 5-star hotels, set against the backdrop of nature or towering skyscrapers. The cost of accommodation in Kuala Lumpur is reasonable, ensuring an accessible and comfortable stay for all visitors. Hotels and resorts in KL offer a variety of rooms with many packages inclusive of breakfast.

In addition to traditional accommodations, there are options specifically designed for backpackers or locals on outstations or staycations. Some places provide community areas with amenities like arcades and sports courts, catering to those who prefer indoor relaxation and fun. Extended stays may also come with discounted rates.

Rates for many hotels in KL fluctuate based on daily occupancy, encouraging potential guests to check the latest information on hotel websites. Utilising applications or websites like Booking.com, Trivago.com, Traveloka.com, and Agoda.com is recommended for advance bookings, often resulting in slightly lower prices. Booking through these platforms not only saves money but also time by avoiding queues.

Sultan Abdul Samad Building

INTRODUCTION & CHARACTERISTIC

The Sultan Abdul Samad Building stands as one of Kuala Lumpur's oldest and most renowned historical landmarks, situated prominently on Jalan Tun Perak. Erected in 1897, it initially served as the administrative hub for British colonial rule and later housed Malaysia's superior courts. Exhibiting a blend of Moorish, Western, and Gothic architectural styles, highlighted by a towering 41.2-meter clock tower, it remains a favorite spot for tourists and locals alike to capture its grandeur through photographs. Designed by A.C. Norman, it was repurposed over the years, now serving as the Ministry of Information, Communication, and Culture office, and hosting Malaysia's Independence Day celebrations annually.

Originally utilized as the administrative center for the Federated Malay States, the Sultan Abdul Samad Building transitioned through various governmental functions, from the Government of Selangor State to national offices post-independence. Recognized for its historical significance, it was gazetted under the National Heritage Act (Act 645), symbolizing its iconic stature in Malaysia's heritage landscape.

Characteristics

01

Two-story building designed in a blend of Mahometan Style and Moorish architecture.

02

The Sultan Abdul Samad Building is designed in the shape of an "F" when viewed from above. The rear block was constructed in 1902-1903.

03

The Sultan Abdul Samad Building is known for its distinctive architectural style that showcases Islamic influences, as seen in the intricate decorative elements and semi-circular arches.

04

The bell clock, which weighs a massive 1 ton and is a whopping 2.43 meters in diameter, was created by Gillett & Johnston Ltd.

Uniqueness

01

The building's architecture exhibits unique characteristics, including Islamic-inspired motifs on window and door designs, and semi-circular arches at the entrances.

02

It features an onion dome and minaret-shaped structures commonly found in mosque architecture.

03

A clock tower, standing approximately 40 meters tall, flanked by two small domes, provides an aesthetically balanced viewpoint.

04

The Sultan Abdul Samad Building, situated between Jalan Raja and Jalan Belanda, is the first main public building in this vicinity.

THE CHRONOLOGY OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE SULTAN ABDUL SAMAD BUILDING

1894

In September 1894, the construction of the Sultan Abdul Samad Building commenced. The foundation stone was laid on October 6 by Sir Charles Mitchell, the Governor of the Straits Settlements.

Constructed in 1897, the Sultan Abdul Samad Building sits on 1.034 hectares of land and is made up of a variety of materials, such as 4 million bricks and 50 tons of steel. To guarantee top-notch materials, a brick and building materials factory was established nearby. Changes were also implemented during the building process, and the clock tower was crafted by Gillett & Johnston Ltd.

During the Queen Victoria Jubilee Parade in June 1897, the tower of the Sultan Abdul Samad Building chimed for the first time. This iconic building served as a hub for important government departments of the Federated Malay States during British colonial rule. Over time, new buildings and extensions were added to accommodate the expanding bureaucracy and address the shortage of office space.

In 1903, an extension known as the rear wing was added to the Sultan Abdul Samad building.

1907

A building constructed in the same architectural style was added to the south to accommodate the General Post Office.

MASSIVE TRANSFORMATIONS IN KL FROM (1974-2024)

Kuala Lumpur is a vibrant city, Malaysia's capital, bustling with around two million people. It's not just about government stuff; it's a lively place with a strong economy and diverse culture. Over time, it's changed a lot. Starting from a simple spot where two muddy rivers met, it's now a cityscape dominated by tall buildings and modern facilities. This transformation shows how the city has moved forward while still respecting its past. From old neighborhoods full of history to shiny business areas, Kuala Lumpur has a mix of the past, present, and future. It's a place of opportunity, attracting people from all over, and it's a shining example of energy and growth in Southeast Asia. Now, let's take a look at some big things that happened in Kuala Lumpur over the years, in order of when they occurred.

Significant Moments in Kuala Lumpur

1974

Kuala Lumpur officially designated as a Federal Territory on February 1st, through a proclamation agreement signed at Istana Negara between the fifth Yang di-Pertuan Agong Sultan Abdul Halim Mu'adzam Shah Ibni Almarhum Sultan Badlishah and the Sultan of Selangor Sultan Salahuddin Abdul Aziz.

1983

Various buildings in Kuala Lumpur, including Masjid Jamek, Institute for Medical Research, and Chartered Bank of India, Australia, and China buildings, were listed under the Antiquities Act 1976.

1986

Sudirman, a Malaysian icon, held a free mega event titled "Konsert Chow Kit Road" on April 14th, drawing over 100,000 attendees to Jalan Tuanku Abdul Rahman as a gesture of gratitude to fans who couldn't afford to attend his live performances.

1990

Kuala Lumpur marked its centennial anniversary of the local council on May 14th. During the celebration, the new Federal Territory of Kuala Lumpur flag and anthem were unveiled.

1991-1996

Beginning in October 1991, construction commenced on Menara Kuala Lumpur, a telecommunications and broadcasting tower soaring to a height of 421 meters above ground level, ultimately opening its doors to the public on July 23, 1996.

1992-1999

In 1992, the construction of the PETRONAS Twin Towers, renowned as the world's tallest twin towers, was initiated. Tun Dr Mahathir Mohamad, serving as Prime Minister at the time, officially unveiled the towers in 1999, cementing their status as an iconic landmark in Kuala Lumpur's skyline.

1996

In November, Pudu Prison concluded a century of operation and ceased its functions. However, in 1997, it reopened for public tours for a short while. Subsequently, the site underwent redevelopment and has now transformed into Bukit Bintang City Centre (BBCC).

1998

Kuala Lumpur welcomed the 16th Commonwealth Games, commencing with the opening ceremony on September 11th. This marked a historic moment as it was the first time in the Games' 68-year history that they were hosted in Asia.

2001

In 2001, KL Sentral, a significant transportation hub and business district in Kuala Lumpur, was officially inaugurated on June 13th, serving as a centralized nexus for various modes of transportation including trains, buses, and the KLIA Express.

2007

The year 2007 saw the opening of the Stormwater Management and Road Tunnel (SMART), a pioneering 9.7km underground motorway and water channel designed to mitigate flooding in the city center, making it the world's first double-storey underground roadway.

2010

In 2010, Prime Ministers Najib Razak and Manmohan Singh opened Little India in Brickfields. Five years later, Najib and Prime Minister of India Narendra Modi unveiled the "Torana Gate" to promote Indian culture and cuisine in a RM32 million project.

2011

The home of the Yang di-Pertuan Agong, Istana Negara, stopped being his residence on November 15, 2011, after 54 years, marked by a special closing ceremony.

2011

The River of Life initiative, with a budget of RM4.4 billion, was introduced by the Federal Government in 2011 to rejuvenate Sungai Gombak and Sungai Klang.

2016

In 2016, the first phase of the MRT Kajang Line, which spans 23 kilometers from Sungai Buloh to Semantan, became accessible to the public on December 16. The second phase opened on July 27, 2017, while the MRT Putrajaya Line became fully operational in March 2023.

2017

In 2017, Ampang Park Shopping Centre, Malaysia's oldest mall, closed its doors on December 31 after nearly 45 years of operation. The mall was later demolished to make space for the MRT project, and a skate park now occupies the site.

2023

In 2023, The Exchange TRX, Kuala Lumpur's newest shopping center, welcomed visitors on November 29. Linked to the country's second tallest building, The Exchange 106, it serves as the heart of the city's new international financial district.

2024

Menara Merdeka 118, which is the second tallest tower in the world, was officially opened on January 10, 2024. It is 678.9 meters tall and has 118 floors. The tower includes a spire that represents Malaysia's declaration of independence, making it a significant landmark in the city.

Downtown KL, the main or central part of Kuala Lumpur, is characterized by tall buildings, stores, offices, and more. Downtown places are typically located in or towards the center of a large town or city, where shops and businesses thrive. Downtown Kuala Lumpur serves as the vibrant heart of Malaysia's capital city. While KL is renowned for being a vibrant metropolis, there are still some incredible places waiting to be discovered in the downtown area of this bustling urban landscape.

GREEN OASIS AMIDST URBANITY

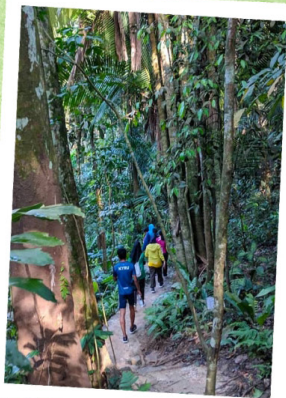

Taman Tugu

Tapak Taman Tugu is protected from commercial developers who planned to build another awful mall on the site, which was once the site of government residences and then an unofficial dump. Instead, a 66-acre public park and conservation site with over 5 kilometres of paths was created.

JEJAK PAHLAWAN

(Warriors Trail)

"Jepak Pahlawan" (Warriors Trail) is a 2km pathway that connects the River of Life Precinct and the Taman Tasik Precinct in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. It passes through the Sivik Precinct at Jalan Tangsi and ends at Tugu Negara in the Taman Tasik Precinct. This trail holds historical significance, as it symbolizes the journey of the nation's warriors and commemorates their sacrifices. It serves as a tribute to the heroes of Malaysia and offers a scenic route for pedestrians to enjoy while exploring the city.

Starting from the River of Life Precinct, the Jepak Pahlawan trail passes by Galeri Kuala Lumpur, where exhibitions and displays showcase the rich cultural heritage and artistic achievements of the nation. As visitors continue along the pathway, they are greeted by the imposing presence of Menara DBKL 1, a prominent symbol of Kuala Lumpur's skyline and the headquarters of the Kuala Lumpur City Hall.

Further along the trail, Bank Negara Malaysia stands as a bastion of financial stability and economic progress, symbolizing the nation's fiscal strength and resilience. The trail then leads to Universiti Tun Abdul Razak, a center of education and knowledge dissemination, emphasizing the importance of learning and intellectual development in nation-building.

Continuing on the journey, Wisma Ekran emerges as a beacon of entrepreneurship and innovation, representing Malaysia's dynamic business landscape and entrepreneurial spirit. These iconic buildings not only serve as landmarks along the Warriors Trail but also embody the aspirations, achievements, and progress of the nation.

The "Jejak Pahlawan" (Warriors Trail) honors Malaysia's heroes with a patriotic theme. Adorned walkways feature intricate designs reflecting Malaysian culture.

- Decorated pillars along the path display inscriptions and artwork celebrating the nation's history. Water curtains create a serene atmosphere, inviting reflection on past sacrifices.
- Strategically placed terrace seating offers resting spots with plaques honoring significant figures.
- Water fountains adorned with cultural motifs punctuate the journey, providing moments of contemplation.
- The trail culminates at Taman Botani Perdana, where lush greenery and vibrant flora invite further exploration, symbolizing the enduring legacy of Malaysia's heroes and the importance of environmental preservation.

Sabah is definitely one of the beautiful states located beyond Kuala Lumpur and a must-visit place by every tourist that visits Malaysia as well as locals tourists.

Let's embark on an extraordinary journey beyond Kuala Lumpur, traversing from the western shores of Malaysia to the enchanting landscapes of Sabah in the east.

Introduction To

Sabah

Sabah, known as the Land Below The Wind, is a state in East Malaysia situated in the northern part of Borneo. Its capital city, Kota Kinabalu, serves as the seat of the state government and the economic center. Other major towns include Sandakan, Tawau, and Keningau.

Sabah boasts an equatorial climate with lush tropical rainforests teeming with diverse flora and fauna. Mount Kinabalu, standing at 13,435 feet, is the tallest mountain in Malaysia and Borneo. The state also features long mountain ranges forming parts of the Crocker Range National Park. It's said that 10 sq. kilometers of Sabah host more flora and fauna than North America and Europe combined.

With an average temperature of 30°C year-round, Sabah experiences rainfall throughout the year, peaking during the North East Monsoon season from October to February. The months between May and September are generally hotter and drier.

Sabah is culturally diverse, with over 40 ethnic races and more than 80 local dialects. While various dialects are spoken, Bahasa Malaysia is widely used across ethnic groups. Customary practices, such as removing shoes when entering places of worship or homes, are observed, and some individuals may prefer not to engage in physical contact due to religious reasons.

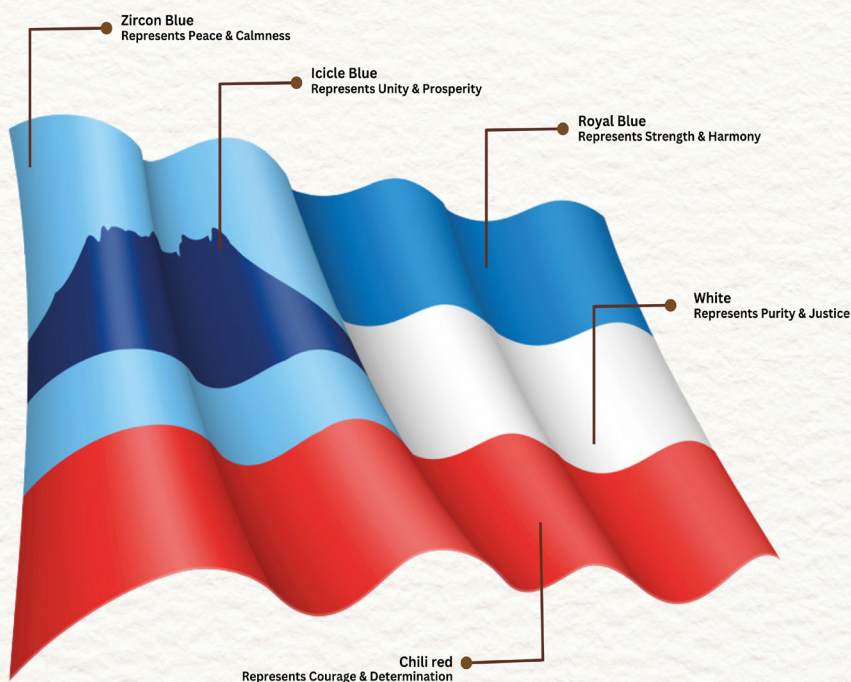

Despite its diversity, Sabah maintains traditional Malaysian customs, including proper attire and manners, with handshakes being a common gesture of greeting.

History of Sabah

Sabah, a region in Borneo, went through a series of colonial administrations before joining Malaysia in 1963. Initially under the Sultanate of Brunei, it came under British influence in the late 18th century. The British North Borneo Company was established in 1882, and Sabah became a British protectorate in 1888. During World War II, it was occupied by the Japanese. In 1963, Sabah joined Malaysia, later renamed from the Alliance of Malaysia. Economic development began with the granting of extraction rights to Petronas in 1967. Political dynamics shifted with the rise of the Kadazan ethnic group's party in 1985. The rotation system for chief ministers was introduced in 1994, aiming for ethnic representation. Kota Kinabalu became the capital in 2000. The International Court of Justice settled territorial disputes in 2005. Present-day Sabah is characterized by educational, economic, and cultural progress, with 28 higher education institutions offering various programs.

INTRODUCTION TO

KOTA KINABALU

Kota Kinabalu, formerly known as Jesselton, is the capital of the state of Sabah. The city is located along the northwest coast of Borneo facing the South China Sea. The Tunku Abdul Rahman National Park lies on its west and Mount Kinabalu, which gave the city its name, is located towards the east.

Kota Kinabalu, is often known as KK within Malaysia and internationally. It is a major fishing destination and a popular gateway for travelers visiting Sabah and Borneo. Kota Kinabalu is a modern city with a long sandy beaches, paradise islands, virgin coral reefs, tropical rainforests; and the mighty Mount Kinabalu is only 90 minutes away.

Kota Kinabalu is named after Mount Kinabalu, which is situated about 50 kilometers east-northeast of the city. Kinabalu is derived from the name Aki Nabalu meaning the “revered place of the dead.” Aki means “ancestors” or “grandfather”, and Nabalu is the name for the mountain in the Dusun language. There is also a source claiming that the term originated from Ki Nabalu, where Ki meaning “have” or “exist”, and Nabalu meaning “spirit of the dead”.
