INTRODUCTION TO GREATER KLANG VALLEY

What is Klang Valley, exactly?

Hearing the name 'Klang Valley' is a commonplace in Malaysia, particularly in Kuala Lumpur and Selangor. In fact, the term "Klang Valley" is so widely used by Malaysians that you'll hear it on the radio or on television, and you'll even come across it in newspapers, magazines, and casual chats as well.

However, one very key point about the Klang Valley is frequently raised: What exactly is the Klang Valley?

The valley is known after the Klang River, which flows through it and begins at Klang Gates Quartz Ridge near Gombak and falls into the Malacca Strait in Port Klang. The river is directly linked to the area's early growth as a cluster of tin mining settlements in the late 19th century. There are five major areas that is under the Klang Valley such as Kuala Lumpur, Gombak, Hulu Langat, Klang and Petaling.

The region's development was mostly east-west (between Gombak and Port Klang), although the metropolitan areas surrounding Kuala Lumpur have since expanded north and south towards the borders with Perak and Negeri Sembilan, respectively.

What forms Greater Klang Valley?

Though no official borders have been drawn, it is possible to consider it to include the federal territory and numerous additional districts in its region. These are some examples:

Sabak Bernam Municipal Council
Hulu Selangor Municipal Council
Kuala Selangor Municipal Council
Klang Municipal Council
Shah Alam City Council
Subang Jaya City Council
Petaling Jaya City Council

Selayang Municipal Council
Ampang Jaya Municipal Council
Kajang Municipal Council
Kuala Langat Municipal Council
Sepang Municipal Council
Nilai Municipal Council
Seremban City Council
Port Dickson Municipal Council

INTRODUCTION TO KLANG VALLEY

Transportation

Despite the fact that the Klang Valley is formally divided among cities and suburbs, there is a high level of connectivity between these cities, with a well-developed road network and a growing integrated rail transit system. Many expressways crisscross the city, making driving the most convenient mode of transportation.

However, this has resulted in the Klang Valley's infamous traffic bottlenecks, which stretch for kilometres along expressways and make driving during peak hours stressful. Since the 1990s, additional rail systems have been developed, including Rapid KL's Light Rapid Transit (LRT), Mass Rapid Transit (MRT), KTM Komuter, ERL's airport rail links, and a monorail. The majority of these systems have undergone considerable enlargement as part of a superproject. Currently, the Klang Valley Integrated Transit System is being rebuilt to incorporate a new MRT and LRT line, as well as a monorail servicing Putrajaya. There are also numerous buses that run around Klang Valley.

Klang Valley Culture

Klang Valley is home to a large number of Malaysians as well as expats. It is an economically booming and culturally diversified area.

Along with its culturally diversified people it comes with an equally broad range of dishes as well. Food is an important component of Malaysian culture. Klang Valley has it all, from curry mee and chicken tikka masala to fish & chips and squid ink risotto!

WAYS TO GET TO NORTHERN REGION

Kuala Lumpur-Kuala Selangor Expressway (LATAR)

The Kuala Lumpur-Kuala Selangor Expressway

also referred to as LATAR Expressway which stands for Lebuhraya Assamjawa Taman Rimba - provides a dual-carriageway from Templer's Park in Gombak district to Ijok in Kuala Selangor district. Spanning across 32 kilometres, it presents as a more viable option compared to the Jalan Sungai Buloh Kuala Selangor (Federal Road 54). There are five interchanges that link to the Guthrie Corridor Expressway (GCE), North-South Expressway (PLUS) and the West Coast Highway. There are also plans to install the Intelligent Transportation System (ITS), CCTVs, Variable Message Sign Boards (VMS), traffic control devices, weather road markers and emergency telephones along the expressway for safety purposes

Website: <https://www.latar.com.my/>

New Klang Valley Expressway (NKVE)

The Klang Valley Expressway is a limited-access highway that runs completely across Selangor and Kuala Lumpur in Peninsular Malaysia. The highway runs from the Bukit Raja town in Klang to Jalan Duta in Kuala Lumpur. One of the most extensively used expressways in the Klang Valley region is the 35-kilometer 22-mile expressway. The primary destinations are Setia Alam, Shah Alam, Subang, Damansara, Subang Jaya, Kota Damansara and Bukit Lanjan.

SIGHTS & ATTRACTIONS

The large territory of the Klang Valley is home to a diversity of gorgeous, one-of-a-kind sights and attractions that cannot be found anywhere else. These include historical sites such as antique buildings and museums centred on the many areas of the Klang Valley, as well as its local community and royalty. Furthermore, there are numerous secret attractions that you might be unaware of that awaits your arrival.

Historical Sites & Museums

Altingsburg Lighthouse Kuala Selangor

The Kuala Selangor Lighthouse is once known as the Altingsburg Lighthouse. This spectacular monument was built in 1907 to replace the original one built by the Dutch when they captured the area two centuries before. It is a 27m two-stage tower with a concrete foundation and a cast iron gallery.

Address: 45000 Kuala Selangor, Selangor
Operating hours: 24 hours
(Monday - Sunday)

Sri Shakti Temple, Bukit Rotan, Kuala Selangor

Sri Shakti Temple is located in Kuala Selangor's Bukit Rotan district. It was built strictly according to ancient scriptures including the Vedas, Agamas, and Sirpa (architectural) Sastras. It is regarded as a prime example of Hindu Sirpa Sastras (architectural scriptures). The temple took four years to complete, and it is said to be the only temple in the world with manifestations of all 51 Shaktis. Consciously scattered inside this space are 96 carved pillars that reflect the 96 fundamental principles of Hinduism

Bukit Tanjong Keramat Fort

Sultan Muhammad constructed Fort Bukit Tanjong Keramat in 1830. A large chunk of the fort was made of earth, and it was a formidable defence fort. The fort has two entrances and is square in design. The main entryway was seven metres wide and faced north. The alley leading from the entryway curved to the east, leading to a stairway leading down to Pangkalan Bagan Pasir. Another entrance faced the east and was regarded as an emergency exit for the army in the fort to get out and send news to Kota Melawati. When the Dutch took Kuala Selangor, they named this fort Fort Utrecht after their ship.

Address: Jalan Tanjong Keramat, 45000 Kuala Selangor, Selangor
Operating Hours: Open 24 hours (Monday - Sunday)

Sabak Bernam Museum

Muzium Sabak Bernam, located in Pekan Sabak Bernam (Sabak Bernam town), is primarily a heritage museum depicting the history of fisheries and agriculture in Sabak Bernam district and Selangor state. The museum, which is around 1135 square feet in size, is part of the government's attempts to attract tourists to Sabak Bernam and acts as a primary reference point for current and future generations.

Royal Mausoleum & Meriam Penggawa

The Royal Mausoleum was a burial ground for the first three Sultan Of Selangor.

Sultan Salahuddin (1742-1778)

Sultan Ibrahim (1778-1826)

Sultan Mahmud (1826-1857)

The sultan's most trusted proctor is a penggawa. After being unearthed in Sungai Buloh in 1966, the cannon was transported to Jugra, Selangor's second capital, to be displayed there. The cannon, however, was claimed to have "refused" to stay put and was transferred here to guard the old sultans

Operating Hours: 8.00 am - 10.00 pm
(Monday-Sunday)

Masjid Jamek Ar-Rahimah

It was built on a land owned by a British commander who oversaw the rubber estate and tin ore mining operations. Until 1998, the growing population density in Kuala Kubu Bharu prompted the Selangor Islamic Religious Department (JAIS) to demolish the elderly mosque and replace it with a larger, more contemporary mosque known as Masjid Ar-Rahimah. The construction of the new mosque began in 1998 and was completed in 1999, with the sponsorship of the state government and JAIS. On November 1 2002, the Sultan of Selangor, His Royal Highness Sultan Sharafuddin Idris Shah Ibni Almarhum Sultan Salahuddin Abdul Aziz Shah, officially opened Masjid Ar-Rahimah.

Places of Worship (Chinese)

Nan Tian Temple Sekinchan

The biggest Chinese temple we should visit is Nan Tian Temple (Nan Tian Gong), a paddy field temple. Nan Tian Temple (also known as the Nine Emperors God Temple) is the only temple at Site A. Nan Tian Temple (Nan Tian Gong) was founded in 1984 and expanded in 2004 to its current size. The Nan Tian Temple (Nan Tian Gong) has become a landmark in Sekinchan. Worshipers will celebrate the birthdays of the Nine Emperor Gods for ten days from the 1st to the 9th of the Ninth month of the Lunar Calendar. This is Sekinchan's most important religious event.

Address: Lorong Tiga, Site A Kampung Kian Sit, 45400 Sekinchan, Selangor.
Website: <https://visit-sekinchan.com/attraction-in-sekinchan/nan-tian-temple.html>
Operating Hours: 9am to 7pm (Monday-Sunday)

Guan Yin Gu See Temple

The temple, which houses a statue of Guan Yin Bodhisattva, is located at the top of a hill and gives breathtaking views of the adjacent community. Kuala Kubu Bharu Town's historical architecture includes traditional shophouses as well as antique fire and railway stations dating from the 1920s to the 1980s. The temple, which survived a severe flood, was rebuilt in the 1980s, and Sir Cecil Ranking's cemetery, which is located within the grounds of MRSM Kuala Kubu Bharu, acts as a memorial to the 1883 flood.

ZERO WASTE Grocery- Stores in Klang Valley

A zero-waste grocery store's ultimate goal is to eliminate all packaging and food waste from the store's operations. As a result, retailers do not utilise or supply plastic bags for customers' goods, but instead require each client to carry their own reusable or plastic bags to collect the products they require in each compartment.

Furthermore, zero-waste grocery stores strive to reduce food waste. They do not sell a large quantity of supermarket items with short expiration dates as a result of this. As a result, they repurpose the items before they expire.

The following is a list of Malaysia's zero-waste grocery stores in 2022.

NUDE The Zero Waste Store

NUDE The Zero Waste Store divided the products into three categories: pasta, flour, spices, and other items. Furthermore, items include food washing, air care, plant care, and other services. Finally, the Moods section sells skincare, haircare, and body accessories. Remember to bring your own recycling bags with you every time you visit.

INTRODUCTION TO ACCOMMODATION

Malaysian accommodation is reasonably priced, with double rooms and most packages including breakfast. Some people regard accommodations as little more than a comfortable place to sleep while travelling to a new location. Accommodations now provide much more to their customers, whether they are in the city, beside a lake, or in a tranquil setting. The accommodation stay is worthy of becoming a stand-alone experience due to the extensive range of amenities accessible.

Advance bookings are required for low-cost or mid-range lodgings during large events. Rates are generally consistent throughout the year, with a slight increase during festival seasons. Many hotels adjust their rates daily based on occupancy, so check their websites for the most up-to-date information. A hotel, defined as an entity that provides overnight housing, meals, and other services, is the most common type of lodging in the hotel sector. They are mostly intended for guests or travellers, but residents may also use them. In most hotels, private rooms with en-suite bathrooms are provided.

Resorts, on the other hand, are commercial enterprises that frequently feature a hotel as well as a variety of on-site services and amenities. Guests will typically have access to hotels, restaurants, bars, entertainment, recreational activities, and retail without leaving the grounds.

New Pantai Expressway (NPE)

The New Pantai Expressway (NPE) is an important expressway in the Klang Valley region that stretches across 19.6 kilometres. It also runs parallel to the Federal Highway, between Subang Jaya in the southwest and Bangsar in the northeast to ease or avoid heavy traffic that typically occurs there. Starting at the Jengka Interchange in Subang Jaya, this highway also links to KL-Seremban near the Kuchai Lama junction via Bandar Sunway. Additionally, it also consists of the Salak Link and Main Link, aside from the North-South Expressway (PLUS). It also has six interchanges including Kewajipan Interchange, PJS8/1 Interchange, Templer Interchange, Pantai Dalam Interchange, Pantai Bahru Interchange and Taman Desa Interchange.

Sultan Sulaiman Royal Mosque

Sultan Sulaiman Royal Mosque is the royal mosque of Selangor and is located in Klang, Selangor, Malaysia. The British built it in early 1932 and it was officially opened in 1933 by the late Almarhum Sultan Sir Alauddin Sulaiman Shah. This mosque blends numerous architectural styles as well as internal and external designs that are not found in other mosques across the country. Sultan Sulaiman Mosque was Selangor's principal state mosque until the opening of Sultan Salahuddin Abdul Aziz Mosque in Shah Alam, the current capital city. The Tangga Diraja (royal staircase) from Istana Alam Shah and a royal mausoleum are two of its most notable features. The late Sultan Salahuddin was buried in the grounds of the mosque.

Sri Sundaraja Perumal Temple, Klang

Sri Sundararaja Perumal Temple, also known as Klang Perumal Temple, is a 127-year-old temple in Malaysia's Klang, Selangor. It is the oldest and largest Vaishnavite temple in Malaysia, having been built in 1892 and restored in 2015. It is sometimes referred to as the "Thirupathi of South East Asia" after its famed counterpart in India. It is Malaysia's first granite temple. The temple is the most popular Lord Vishnu temple in South East Asia. The temple is located in the royal town of Klang, just a short distance from the famed Klang Little India. This temple is devoted to Lord Vishnu in the form of Perumal, a prominent deity among South-ern Indians.

Sri Maha Mariamman Temple, Sri Muda

This 150-year-old Mariamman Temple was transported from Section 19, (formerly part of the famed Sungai Renggam Estate; Malaysia's largest producer of rubber in its prime) to its current location in Section 23, but it was not an easy journey. When a group of 50 radicals marched with a cow's head in protest of the construction of this temple in Section 23, this chapter in Malaysian history marked the deterioration of religious tolerance. Because the population in the areas surrounding the new site appears to be largely Muslim, the construction of a temple was deemed inappropriate. The temple has ultimately been relocated, however it remains within Section 23's boundaries.

Bolder Ventures

Bolder Ventures is a friendly, family-run boutique rock climbing gym. It provides climbers with the homey vibe of a second home since there is a communal vibe among the climbers here - where everyone knows everyone and is always ready to give assistance to one another, whether it is a new face or an old one.

Top rope climbing and bouldering walls are available at the venue. It is a good site for beginners to begin their journey into the world of rock climbing because there are many experienced climbers here to assist them.

TREX Bike Park

On weekends, Malaysian cyclists have a plethora of parks to enjoy an outdoor adventure. If you're looking for a change of scenery on your next riding journey, head to Puncak Alam's Trex Bike Park.

With its bicycle-only lanes and mountain bike challenges, this large bicycle park will excite both novice and experienced cyclists. The park is also near a neighbourhood mall with a variety of eateries, so you can spend a leisurely morning or evening squeezing in an exciting activity and rounding it off with a big supper.

Selangor-Japan Friendship Garden

Resembling the minimalist gardens of the Land of the Rising Sun is the newly opened Selangor-Japan Friendship Garden. Exuding a zen-like ambience, this garden consists of five scenic areas across 2.42 hectares of land. Other than the rock garden, other features seen are the koi ponds, torii gateways, tsukubai (traditional Japanese washbasin) and water fountain behind a mural similar to the iconic The Great Wave Off Kanagawa painting.

PETALING JAYA, GOMBAK, RAWANG

Petaling Jaya Museum

The museum building was built in 1980 as a children's reading house. Due to its location, the reading house discontinued their operations in 1992, and the facility was taken over by the environment development department. It was then converted into a natural education facility. The museum department took over the building in April 2007 and converted it into a museum. The museum's construction and remodeling work was completed in October 2007, and it officially opened on November 12, 2007. It was later shuttered for renovations before reopening in April 2016.

Thai Buddhist Chetawan Temple

Wat Chetawan (also known as the Chetawan Buddhist Temple) is a Thai temple located in the Petaling District of Selangor, Malaysia. The temple is located in Petaling Jaya on Jalan Pantai, off Jalan Gasing. It was inaugurated in 1957 by Thailand's then-King, the late King Bhumibol Adulyadej. The temple is also the only Malaysian Siamese temple designated as the custodian of the Buddha sacred relics for all Malaysian Buddhists, which were discovered in Piprahwa, a village in Uttar Pradesh near the border of the Kingdom of Nepal in 1898 and presented to King Chulalongkorn of Siam by the then British Viceroy of India, Lord Curzon.

Places of Worship (Muslim)

Masjid Jamek Sultan Abdul Aziz

Masjid Jamek Sultan Abdul Aziz, Jalan Templer, Petaling Jaya, Malaysia, began in 1956 with the construction of a two-story edifice on the existing site of the mosque, formerly known as 'Surau Kawasan Melayu' Petaling Jaya. The ancient surau can house between 100 and 150 church members. The surau's wooden foundation was replaced with a concrete base shaped like a half-open umbrella in the early 1960s. The new surau is larger than the old one and can accommodate up to 300 congregation members. The new structure was dedicated on October 23 1964, by DYMM Sultan Salahuddin Abdul Aziz Shah Al-Haj Ibni Al-Marhum Sultan Hishamuddin Alam Shah Al-Haj, the Sultan of Selangor at the time. In honour of the Sultan, the structure was formally titled 'Masjid Jamek Sultan Abdul Aziz.'

SPORTS & RECREATION

Extreme Sports

WINDLAB Indoor Skydiving

WINDLAB Indoor Skydiving is a recreation of a 14,000-foot outdoor skydive. Everyone who has ever wanted to fly can come to 1 Utama, the Malaysia's largest shopping mall, and experience the sensation of flight. Indoor skydiving simulates the freefall component of outdoor skydiving without the need of a plane or a parachute. Simply lean into the wind with the help of our skilled instructors and take off. The chamber's base is a trampoline floor made of aircraft-quality stainless steel, and with wind speeds of up to 250 km/h, seasoned fliers can conduct aerobatic manoeuvres quickly and safely.

Malay

Village Park Restaurant

One of our favourite Malaysian food is nasi lemak. A fantastic meal of nasi lemak, in our opinion, should include rich, aromatic rice, sweet-spicy sambal, and crispy, juicy fried chicken. Village Park Restaurant is frequently referred to as having the “best nasi lemak in town.” We all ordered the same thing: the famous Village Park Nasi Lemak with ayam goreng. Must admit that everything looked excellent, smelled good, and tasted good. and enjoy the rice, which is light, fluffy, and flavorful. The fried chicken was tender and crunchy, well worth the calories.

Capital Nasi Dagang Kelantan @ Damansara Utama

The owners of the popular ‘nasi dagang’ booth in Kota Bharu’s Capital Cafe, who are originally from Kelantan, expanded into the Klang Valley this month, launching their first new location in Damansara Utama. Back in Kota Bharu, Capital occasionally ran out of rice by 10 a.m., but this Uptown location appears to be better stocked, staying open until 5 p.m. every day. Kelantan Nasi Dagang. This is just incredible! It was the bomb a year ago, and it still is. The sauce was tasty and sweet, as expected, and the ikan tongkol was wonderful. The chicken came in the form of a drumstick and was delicious, meaty, and moist. When you combine all of the ingredients on the platter and then dig in - incredibly amazing.

Address: 29, Jalan SS 21/1a, Damansara Utama, 47400 Petaling Jaya, Selangor

Rasa Wau

Residents of the Klang Valley no longer have to go far to sample the authenticity of food from Pahang, Terengganu, and Kelantan, as Rasa Wau restaurant offers a variety of unique and delectable East Coast delicacies. This Rasa Wau restaurant not only serves cuisines from the state’s East Coast, but you can also get Nasi Lemak and Western cuisine. It’s simple to remark that all tourists who come here can eat meals that suit their tastes.

Rasa Wau Restaurant, located in Sunway Giza, Kota Damansara, serves authentic and delectable East Coast cuisine.

Ikan Bakar @ Wira Seafood Ikan Bakar Sedap

Wira, who has been in business since 1980, attracts new customers while keeping regulars satisfied with their daily supply of fresh fish from a neighbouring market! Some of their signature dishes are ikan akar, nasi lemak, and kerabu, all of which are reasonably priced.

Ikan Bakar, on the other hand, is recognised for the chilli paste put over the fish, which has a red hot fiery sensation with a pungent smokey flavour that distinguishes it from the rest. The fish is grilled on top of a banana leaf to prevent burning and to absorb flavour from the leaf itself, resulting in a delightfully moist and delicate fish that melts in the mouth!

Tasty Chapathi PJ

Northern Indian food, often known as Mughlai cuisine, has its roots in the Persian-speaking Moghuls who ruled India centuries ago. Complex, spicy flavours and thick, creamy textures reflect their affluent lifestyle, appreciation of luxury, and sense of flair. Tasty Chapathi PJ pays homage to tradition with meals that have convincingly deep flavours. Fresh teng-giri in a light, buttery-smooth yellow sauce with ground spices that add to the complexity. Butter Chicken was boneless chicken in a creamy, bright crimson sauce that was smooth and sweet while concealing an underlying spiciness that left a tingle on the mouth and was appetising. Mutton Masala, soft boneless mutton pieces in a thick, spicy brown curry, smooth yet more strong and macho than the lamb.

Kajang Heritage Centre

In the year 2000, the Federation of Chinese Associations, Hulu Langat founded the Kajang Heritage Centre. The goals are to promote local history and heritage while also involving individuals in community building. In 2015, the Kajang Heritage Centre cooperated with New Era College on the Kajang Cultural Mapping project. Photographs and oral histories were taken.

Address: 39, Jalan Mendaling, Bandar Kajang, 43000 Kajang, Selangor
Operating Hours: 10 am - 5 pm (Saturday)

Malaysian Chinese Museum

The Malaysian Chinese Museum (MCM) is Malaysia's first museum dedicated to the history and development of the Chinese Malaysian population. Tan Sri Datuk Dr. Ng Teck Fong proposed the museum in November 2011, and construction began in August 2017 and was finished in March 2018. Wisma Hua Zong in Seri Kembangan, Selangor, houses it on the first level. It has a total floor space of 10550 square feet. There are 16 permanent exhibition sections and 1000 collection pieces. The permanent exhibition depicts the history of Chinese immigration through the ages as well as the cultural legacy of local Chinese. Text and images, historical reconstruction, artwork, and multimedia are used to showcase the collections.

Masjid As-Salam Puchong Perdana

In the country, this mosque is a well-known floating edifice. The construction of a mosque by a lake or body of water is extremely prevalent in Malaysia. In the country's hot and humid environment, water is widely regarded as a natural cooling element that will help chill its surroundings. The As-Salam Mosque stands firm upon the shore of a man-made lake in the Selangor municipality of Puchong Perdana. Recently, the mosque was recognised as one of the most excellent mosques erected by the Malaysian Government.

District 21

District21 is a one-of-a-kind, post-apocalyptic Adventure Park. This action park is housed in a 70,000-square-foot indoor facility with a 55-foot air-conditioned atrium within the IOI City Mall in Putrajaya. District21, with its ten renowned attractions and eight function spaces, is also a great setting for corporate team building activities, school group visits, and birthday celebrations.

District21's creed is Fun, Passion, and Participation, which necessitates the participation of the entire family. District21 incorporates ten adventure attractions, many of which have never been seen in Asia, and offers activities for all ages.

Visitors will encourage you to climb, leap, ride, slide, and fly.

Beast Park

Whatever you think you know about indoor climbing, you haven't seen anything like this! Camp5, Asia's famous best indoor climbing gym, will bring to the Beast Park 978 square metres of total wall area, including 232 square metres of boulder problems and 724 square metres of roped walls at its greatest send of 15 metres. Still not convinced by the specs? Test your skills on our 33 top rope anchor routes bolted at a maximum height of 10.5 metres, or tackle our ever-changing boulder problems at 4 metres. If it isn't enough to quench your climbing desire, send the 15-metre lead wall across 240 square metres and tell a tale of untold triumphs to live 'legendary' till a new route is discovered.

Theme Parks & Gardens

Taman Saujana Hijau

Everyone may benefit from some fresh air, especially after being cooped up at home for an extended amount of time! And if you want to stretch your legs, go for a picnic, or simply change scenery, Taman Saujana Hijau in Putrajaya is the place to go. With its pine trees, rolling hills, wooden fencing, and exotic flora, this garden is popular for running as well as leisurely outings such as picnics or wedding photoshoots. A 2.8km running track runs across the park, with other smaller pathways and portions that split off for you to explore. Because the location is fairly steep, you should wear comfortable shoes for walking about!

Bukit Jalil Recreational Park

Bukit Jalil Park (Taman Rekreasi Bukit Jalil) is a prominent recreational park in Kuala Lumpur's southern suburbs, around 20 kilometres from the city centre. Kuala Lumpur City Hall is in charge of it. Picnicking, a children's playground, jogging and walking routes, workout stations, a reflexology path, a heliconia garden, lakes, a specific space for individuals with impairments, and an international garden are among the activities and facilities available here. The park is located on an 80-acre plot with gradually sloping ground. For those looking for more rigorous exercise, there are a couple steeper hills with steps.

Grand Shanghai Food Theme Park

Puchong's new Grand Shanghai Food Theme Park in the Setiawalk complex is loud, obnoxious, and cheesy, but it's alluring in its own inimitable way. This is a restaurant maze in a setting meant to resemble the streets of 1930s Shanghai, complete with rickshaws and vintage car replicas. There are countless shops selling everything from dim sum to bak kut teh, roast duck rice to claypot pork belly noodles.

Operation Hours: 10 am - 10 pm (Monday-Sunday)

22 Craft Studio

22 Craft Studio was founded two years ago, and consider themselves extremely fortunate to have this opportunity to share their love of clay and the process of making it with others. It was founded with the assistance of family and friends, which they much valued. The satisfaction of making is unquestionably the appeal of ceramics. The process of moulding a lump of clay into something usable or a 3D form of an idea fills one's heart with joy. We all know that producing pottery takes time, but we believe that the agony of waiting actually increases the joy when an artwork is eventually produced after they've been fired. Not to mention that the self-absorbed moment of tossing clay may be incredibly cathartic!

WAYS TO GET TO SOUTHERN REGION

South Klang Valley Expressway (SKVE)

The Kemuning Interchange and its interchange with the Persiaran Kota Kemuning and Shah Alam Expressway E5 are where the expressway starts. This 51.7 kilometre dual-carriageway then travels via the Jalan Bukit Kemuning Interchange, a toll plaza near Taman Sri Muda, and the Alam Impian Interchange. To reach Section 24, the expressway crosses the Klang River bridge. The primary destinations are Kajang, Putrajaya, Cyberjaya, Bandar Saujana Putra, Teluk Intan and Pulau Indah.

Website: <https://www.skve.com.my/>

Kajang Dispersal Link Expressway (SILK)

The Kajang Dispersal Link Expressway, commonly known as Kajang SILK Highway (E18), is an expressway in Kajang, Selangor, Malaysia, developed to disperse and manage traffic flow. The 37-kilometer (23-mile) road with a three-lane dual carriageway would allow traffic to avoid Kajang's town centre. It may also be used as Kajang's major ring road. The primary locations are Balakong, Bandar Sungai Long, Kajang, Semenyih, Bandar Baru Bangi and Putrajaya.

Cheras - Kajang Expressway

The Cheras - Kajang Expressway also known as Grand Saga Expressway is an 11.5-kilometer controlled-access expressway in Peninsular Malaysia's Klang Valley. It runs between the Kuala Lumpur to Selangor border suburb of Cheras and the town of Kajang. The toll rate is free for motorcycles and bicycles. The fare starts from RM0.70 to RM2.60 depending on the type of vehicle. The primary destinations are Kuala Lumpur, Petaling Jaya, Cheras, Kajang, Semenyih, and Seremban.

Ampang-Kuala Lumpur Elevated Highway (AKLEH)

Known as the very first elevated highway in Malaysia is none other than the Ampang-Kuala Lumpur Elevated Highway (AKLEH). Stretched across an estimated 7.9 km, this highway essentially connects Ampang in Selangor to Kuala Lumpur as a means to minimise the heavy traffic jams that typically occur in Jalan Ampang and to ease access to the city centre. The starting point begins eastward from Jalan Sultan Ismail to the riverbanks of Sungai Klang and Sungai Ampang. It ultimately completes at Taman Ampang Utama in Ampang. It also provides a three-lane carriageway in each direction – this includes the Jalan Sultan Ismail interchange to Dato' Keramat interchange.

Bukit Jugra Lighthouse

These late-nineteenth-century navigators had been travelling for weeks in the Malacca Strait, and each time they closed in, the shores slyly retreated further inland, breaking these huge armadas and yielding frustration. As a result, they built a lighthouse on top of Cockle Hill. From then on, when everything was silent and the people were all cuddled and asleep on their woven mats, a beacon of light would part the darkness in search of ships welcoming them to the land. That is how the legend goes, and it goes on to relate how the hill continued to bleed for 30 days after the Sri Jugra Lighthouse was built.

Operating Hours: Open 24 hours (Monday to Sunday)

Istana Bandar

The fifth Sultan of Selangor, Sultan Sir Alaeddin Sulaiman Shah, stayed here for several years until his death in 1938. In 1926, his grandson, Sultan Salahuddin Abdul Aziz Shah, the eighth Sultan of Selangor, was born in the palace. The edifice, also known as Istana Alaeddin or Alaeddin Palace, was built of high-quality chengal wood and marble. Its design is predominantly Islamic, including influences from India and the Middle East. As Chinese craftsmen were involved in the palace's construction, there are also some Chinese influence (the roof's carved fascia board and sisik naga or dragon fin) on its architectural design.

Illusion 3D Art Museum

If you've been avoiding Central Market because of its touristic vibe, you might be persuaded to reconsider after becoming Tunku Abdul Rahman's barber or witnessing Barack Obama grimace on the toilet – both made possible via 3D art.

The Illusion 3D Art Museum, said to be the first of its kind in the city, houses 36 3D paintings in three galleries. Each painting is inspired by Malaysian pop culture and scenes. So you may imitate rubber tapping, wait for an ancient cobbler to repair your shoes, duel Darth Vader, or tug on a cheeky Mona Lisa's foot.

Raja Muda Musa Mosque Semenyih

Raja Muda Musa Mosque is a wood-built mosque in Semenyih that has been in operation since the 1920s. The name of this mosque was inspired by Sultan Musa Ghiattudin Riayat Shah, who became the Raja Muda of Selangor in 1916.

Because part of the mosque's roof had fallen, a new mosque was built on top of the original structure in 1963. At the time, the cost of constructing a brick structure was roughly RM60,000. The mosque is located on the side of the old Kuala Lumpur-Seremban road and is frequently used by road users who want to pray.

Arulmigu Sri Maha Mariamman , Sepang

Before its current size, the Arulmigu Sri Maha Mariamman temple was a tiny structure. The temple is a communal temple, and the majority of the deities were requested by the locals. When there was a possibility to enhance the temple, the locals and temple management determined that the original Lord Amman's statue, which is the temple's presiding deity, must remain.

Lord Vishwaroopa Ramabakthar Hanuman is a particular deity in this temple, with another aspect of Lord Ramar. This is especially remarkable because it is uncommon to witness Vishwaroopa Hanuman with Lord Ramar.

Fo Guang Shan Dong Zen Temple

Fo Guang Shan Dong Zen Temple, located in the quiet town of Jenjarom, is the heart of the Taiwan-based Fo Guang Shan School of Buddhism and a cradle for Buddhist religion, culture, and education in Malaysia.

The FGS Dong Zen Temple is famous for its extravagant Lantern and Flora Festival, which features a kaleidoscope of digital lights, lanterns, and flotillas that adorn the temple grounds during the 15-day annual Chinese New Year celebrations.

The temple was designated as a religious tourism destination by the Ministry of Tourism and Culture in 1999, and it received the "Outstanding Scenery Award" from Selangor's Tourism Development Board in 2003.

SPORTS & RECREATION

Extreme Sports

Sepang Go-Kart Circuit

Sepang International Circuit contains Sepang International Kart Circuit (SIKC) (SIC). The kart circuit was created by Hermann Tilke, a well-known F1 track designer who was also responsible for the shape of the main track at Sepang International Circuit. The karting circuit is 1.247 kilometres long and 10 metres wide, with 11 difficult curves. SIKC is an Asia Zone C professional karter's track sectioned by the Commission Internationale de Karting (CIK) of the Federation Internationale de Automobile (FIA). The tarmac used is identical to that on the main track, providing the finest racing experience possible.

Paragliding at Jugra Hill

Paragliding at Jugra Hill is becoming increasingly popular among both local and visiting paragliders. This recreational and competitive adventure sport has become a must-do for anybody visiting Bukit Jugra. The flying site is in Jugra, a historical village in Kuala Langat with grand houses, bridges, and roads that radiate old-world elegance. Jugra was the royal capital of Selangor in the late 1800s, and its well-preserved buildings are good representations of the craftsmanship and grandeur of its spectacular past. Foreign navigators and cartographers referred to Bukit Jugra as Parcelar Hill.

Restoran Barra Seksyen 6

It's really nice to be able to consume hot and good cuisine during cold wet seasons. Barra Restaurant is situated in Bangi. Naan Cheese Mozzarella, which may be served with Goat Curry and Tandori Chicken, is one of the must-try meals. Cheese lovers should definitely give it a shot! Alternatively, Tomyam Bangkok Seafood is available. When the fatty broth is heated, it should be consumed. Not only that, but the Nasi Goreng Kambing dish is one of their other "bestsellers."

Restoran Adik Abang

What breakfast menu should you include on your list? Is it nasi lemak? Roti canai? Lontong? These three menus are available at Restoran Adik Abang, one of the top breakfast spots in Sepang. The Lontong here is distinct from others. It is usually eaten with sambal sotong kembang. The mixture is excellent! In addition to lontong, roti canai is also available. If served with their famed curry sauce, you will fall in love with it as well.

Salt & Pepper Restaurant

Are there any spicy food lovers among us? If you enjoy spicy food, this Salt & Pepper restaurant is a must-visit. The most spicy items include their burgers, chicken wings, and pasta. This Explosive Burger is known as the "most spicy burger" since it is served with Carolina Reaper, the world's most fiery pepper. If you dare, eat this burger to see how much spiciness you can handle!

Instagrammable Cafe

If you're looking for an aesthetically pleasing café to eat brunch with your buddies, we've got you covered! We can't all just enjoy our expensive coffees at some random eatery, can we? We should all choose a location that is so eye-catching that we only need to take up our phones and strike a pose to share on our Instagram profiles.

Yup! That's the way to go, therefore here are our top selections for the most viewed cafés in Klang Valley!

Coffee Ink

Feel right at home in this artsy café in Klang, complete with dangling lights and thought-provoking art pieces. Coffee Ink, as the name suggests, creates beautiful coffee art that tastes as delicious as it looks!

Pretty unicorns, teddy bears, and elaborate milk designs on your latte will certainly brighten your day, as will the well-rounded coffee flavour.

Address: Floor 1, 19 1, Jalan Remia 3, Bandar Botanik, 41200 Klang, Selangor

Operating Hours: 11 am - 8.30 pm
(Monday - Sunday)

2D Cafe SS15

You are probably correct if you believe you have heard of the topic previously. This idea is not novel; it has been implemented in a number of countries, including Korea. We are overjoyed that there is finally one in Malaysia. We don't need to fly all the way there to see this strange place! It's now in our backyard and provides one of our favourite beverages, bubble tea! Because the entire establishment is black and white, your photos will stand out.

Address: 44, Jalan SS 15/4C, SS 15, 47500 Subang Jaya, Selangor
Contact: 03-5612 8570

Operating Hours: 12 pm - 11 pm
(Monday - Sunday)

La Fleur X Uniqorn

Are you a fan of the colour pink? Do you want to unwind with a unicorn as in the Barbie story? La Fleur X Uniqorn has everything! This café is new on Sunway GEO Avenue. This café, decorated in pastel pinks, rainbows, and unicorns, has gotten a lot of attention. Not only do people want to bring a partner on a date, but are also popular among children.

The café has two concepts: La Fleur (Flowers) and Uniqorn. La Fleur, is tied to tulip coffee art, and customers are given the opportunity to create their own! Simply order a cup of coffee, and an anime-dressed server will demonstrate the coffee art before you try it yourself. Isn't it fascinating?

Address: E1-01, 02, Jalan Lagoon Selatan, Sunway Geo Avenue, Selangor

Huskiss

If you can't get enough of Huskies, here is the place to be! This cafe, which recently opened in Kelana Jaya, is home to six gorgeous huskies. Patrons can reserve their preferred sessions to spend time with the Huskies in this spacious location. The Huskies are quite friendly and can be quite energetic. This eatery also has high seats and tables to keep the dogs away from your food. All you have to do is pay an admission charge that includes a complimentary cup of drink and you can start having fun with the dogs!

Address: 80-G, Block G, Zenith Corporate Park, SS7/26, 47301 Petaling Jaya, Selangor

Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/HUSKISSPJ/>
Operating Hours: 11 am - 4.30 pm, 7 pm - 8 pm (Monday - Sunday)

Seri Talam Cat Cafe

Seri Talam Cat Café should be next on your list if you want to drown in a sea of cats. There are two parts to the museum: a cat gallery and a cat care centre. It also houses over 120 rescued felines, including a Norwegian Forest Cat. Okay, so you won't drown in them, but many of Seri Talam's furry buddies are friendly and eager for cuddles. The cafe also provides medical services and a safe haven for cats.

Next door is their café, which serves local Malay delicacies such as Mee Jawa, Mee Sup Ayam, Laksa Johor, Murtabak, Lontong, Soto, and Lempeng.

Address: No. 13, Jln Seri Rejang 1, Taman Sri Rampai, 53300 Kuala Lumpur, Wilayah Persekutuan Kuala Lumpur

KLANG VALLEY'S UNUSUAL EXPERIENCES FOR LESS THAN RM150

Check out this list the next time you're looking for an adventure in the city that won't break the bank. Here are 5 entertaining and unusual experiences available in Klang Valley for less than RM150.

Where to Make Your Own Batik Journal

Batik Boutique offers batik creating classes.

If you enjoy art and all things creative, this batik-making workshop should be on your list. Not only will you be able to attempt a uniquely Malaysian traditional art, but you will also receive a handmade diary made from your own cloth. A lovely item for storing your scribbles and scrapbooking escapades!

Other items you may make include napkins, cushion covers, scarves, a fold over purse, and even an iPad case.

Standard Price: RM114.00/pax

Climb up Batu Caves

Book a rock-climbing experience at Gua Damai

Most people are familiar with Batu Caves because of the renowned Lord Murugan statue, the 272 steps leading up to the Hindu shrines, and the Thaipusam celebrations. Few people realise it is also a popular climbing location. You don't have to be an experienced climber to try it out, as there are over 100 routes ranging in difficulty from 5C to 7A+. Do you require a beginner or refresher course? There are skilled instructors around who can assist you.

Standard Price: RM116.00/pax

Meet Malaysia's Maskman

Reserve a seat at the Mah Meri Cultural Village in Selangor.

The indigenous Mah Meri tribe, who are talented in woodcarving and leaf origami, lives in the cultural village of Pulau Carey. They are easily identified by the ceremonial masks and costumes they wear during big occasions.

Paying a visit to the Malaysian Maskman transports you into their world, where you may observe them at work, hear about their mystery origins, and learn the melodies that narrate their stories. They'll even let you try on their costumes and dance with them.

Standard Price: RM10.00/pax

Make a Delicious Indian Meal

Make a reservation for a healthy Indian cooking class in Brickfields.

If you prefer nutritious eating, come to Ruth's cooking class in Brickfields. She feels that if you know how, Indian food can be both delicious and healthy, and she intends to demonstrate this in her classes.

The menu may vary depending on your needs. Chicken sukka, naan bread, curries, kosamburi (a traditional Indian salad), and chikoo lassi are just a few of her recipes. Of course, you get to enjoy them later. Yum!

Standard Price: RM87.50/pax

BEYOND KLANG VALLEY

Beyond Klang Valley, there are destinations we may visit in one and a half hours that include oceans, mountains, gorgeous jungles, and tiny villages.

Genting Highlands, Bentong, Fraser, Janda Baik, and Temerloh are the major conurbations in the Greater Klang Valley. These are the areas best recognised for their chilly weather, large theme parks, nature, and beaches, as well as delectable cuisines.

There are numerous sites to explore and cafes to try a variety of meals, from the coast to nature. Each restaurant has its unique specialties that you won't find anywhere else. Each area has its own distinct culture and customs; for example, in Genting Highlands, there are large theme parks, Sky Casino, Awana Skyway, and so on.

Temerloh, which is located in Pahang, is little recognised. Temerloh is a well-developed and well-organised town. It is located in Central Pahang and serves as the meeting place for Peninsula Malaysia's East and West Coasts. Because of the quantity of patin (silver catfish) in this town beside the Pahang River, it is also known as 'Bandar Ikan Patin' (patin town).

These are the lovely sites located beyond Klang Valley and are a must-see for both tourists and Malaysians.

GENTING HIGHLANDS

Genting Highlands is an integrated resort complex in Pahang that includes hotels, casinos, shopping malls, and the newest Skyworlds Theme Park, which is perched on the 1,800-meter-high Gunung Ulu Kali mountain. Genting is located near the boundary of Selangor, about 35 kilometres from Kuala Lumpur, and is accessible by motorways, roads, and the Awana Skyway cable car.

On a clear day, the peak overlooks beautiful valleys of rainforest stretching towards KL, providing visitors with a breathtaking vista as they enjoy the cooling weather and tranquil mountain surroundings. Many tourist attractions in the surrounding valley are also located around Genting, including rustic towns, culinary hotspots, homestay retreats, wildlife sites, and more.

Getting There

The drive to the peak takes around an hour and covers roughly 35 kilometres. The seeming slowness is due to the curvy and steep mountain route that begins at the base of Genting Highlands. The Karak Highway has a toll, however there is free access via the trunk route from Batang Kali/Ulu Yam (from Rawang) or Gombak (old Bentong road).

Every day, buses travel to Genting Highlands from several locations in and around Kuala Lumpur, either directly to Mushroom Farm Terminal (summit) or Awana SkyCentral (Gohtong Jaya). Departures from KL are available throughout the day and night, with ticket rates ranging from MYR5 to MYR12 depending on location.

Genting Express is the official bus service to Awana SkyCentral, offering services from KL Sentral, Pudu Sentral (Puduraya), Terminal Putra LRT Gombak, Terminal Bersepadu Selatan (TBS), and One Utama Shopping Center in Petaling Jaya. There are also express buses from Singapore and other Malaysian states (check local listings).

Chin Swee Caves Temple

Chin Swee Cave Temple is a Chinese temple set on a steep incline just before the top, accessible by road or cable car via the Awana Skyway. Years of expansion have resulted in an enormous physical complex beyond the original altar chamber, steeped in traditional Chinese architecture exhibited through beautiful prayer halls, colourful statues, sumptuous archways, and its signature pagoda.

The temple was established by Genting's founder (Lim Goh Tong) to honour Buddhist figure Chin Swee a year after he built the first resort and casino in 1975. The location was chosen because it reminded him of the environment of his birth village in Fujian, China. Because of the hard terrain, modern machinery was avoided during the 18-year construction process, which began with a foundation dug from solid bedrock.

Address: Exit 68, Genting Sempah,
28750 Bentong, Pahang
Contact: 03-2179 1886
Website: <https://www.chinswee.org/>
Operating Hours: 9.00 am - 6.00 pm
(Monday-Sunday)

Skytropolis Funland

Skytropolis Funland, located at First World Plaza and connected to SkyAvenue, is an indoor theme park with 24 rides and attractions for all ages, including a roller coaster, ferris wheel, swinging ship, carousel, and bumper cars. There's also The Void, a virtual reality experience, and BigTop Video Activities Park, a gaming arcade with interactive games for youngsters to win prizes. Within the area, eight kiosks and stalls that sell food and refreshments. Visitors can pay each ride or purchase a preview pass for unlimited rides, which is available everyday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Address: Level 1, SkyAvenue, Resorts
World Genting, Genting Highlands,
69000 Genting Highlands, Pahang
Contact: 03-6101 1118
Operating Hours: 10.00 am - 10.00 pm
(Monday-Sunday)

MUST VISIT SPOTS

SeniKome Pénng Heng

SeniKome Pénng Heng, located on level three of First World Plaza, is an East Coast arts and culture centre that houses a range of traditional aspects from Malaysia's East Coast region, including craft, art, fashion, games, music, and even food. The Ming Dynasty used the term 'Pénng Heng' for the East Coast in 1520, whereas 'SeniKome' means 'Our Art' in the local Pahang dialect.

Visitors can participate in interactive and dynamic activities such as visual presentations and performance arts, as well as local games such as Congkak and Batu Seremban. Tickets for adults and children include a guided tour and are available everyday from 8.30 a.m. to 5.30 p.m. Finally, there is a retail gallery where you may purchase cultural mementos as well as gastronomic delights.

Lentang Forest Reserve

Bukit Tinggi's Hutan Lipur Lentang is a recreational forest reserve. The Sungai Benus river pours into the rainforest terrain, creating pools, cascades, and even a waterfall on the park's outskirts. The region is popular with weekend tourists and is serviced by a variety of facilities such as hawkers stalls, public restrooms, camping areas, gazebos, and paved walks. There are numerous parking lots along the tarmac road. It combines trekking and a waterfall venue. The water here is freezing, and the stream is raging. Gigantic Rock abounds in the river near Hutan Lipur Lentang. Because of the massive rocks, trees, and other natural features, some areas will transport you to Jurassic Park.

Address: Hutan Lipur Lentang, Bentong, Pahang Malaysia.

Rubber Tap Noodle Stall (Shu Shi Fen)

In the 1960s and 1970s, there were numerous rubber tappers in the country who would start their day with a steaming bowl of noodles. Because of this, the noodles supplied by this particular stall have been dubbed “rubber tap noodles” by locals, despite the fact that it is officially known as Shu Shi Noodles. You can choose from the available side dishes and pair them with your noodles at this stall.

Ah Chong Chee Cheong Fun, Bentong

At 11 a.m, the legendary wanton mee at Yuen Kie Kopitiam was already sold out! This homemade Chee Cheong Fun turned out to be one of the greatest. The flat noodles were silky and smooth, better than any we'd had in KL. I believe what set it apart was that it was cut so thinly and coated with just the right amount of oil. The sauce had the appropriate balance of sweetness and savoury (i.e. not overly sweet), with a moderate spicy bite from the chilli paste. The fuchuk was a standout - it was less salty and of higher quality than what we get in KL. Their yong tau foo (YTF) is also delicious!

This stall is close to Restoran Ichiban Best and directly across from the Chamang waterfall mural. It is located at the crossroads of Jalan Chui Yin and Jalan Wayang. You can't possibly miss the line in front of it.

Address: At the intersection of Jalan Wayang and Jalan Chui Yin, next to Kopitiam Ichiban Best, 8700 Bentong, Pahang
Operating Hours: 11am until sold out daily

Taufu Auntie Mok, Bentong

Tauhu Auntie Mok, formerly known as Bentong Tau Fu Sdn Bhd, is famous for their tau foo fah (soy pudding) and tofu puffs. The soy pudding was silky and smooth, much like the ones in Ipoh. The ginger syrup is fragrant and strong, as expected – it being, after all, the home of the famous Bentong ginger.

FRASER'S HILL

The Paddock

Bukit Fraser's The Paddock is an equestrian centre for horseback riding. Visitors can ride retired racing horses through a tiny course (led by the keeper) for a minimal cost along Valley Road, just before the Glen Bungalow roundabout (exit to Kuala Lumpur or Jalan Lady Maxwell).

Aside from the course, there is a little garden area with benches where you may take a break and observe the surrounding nature, which is bordered with towering conifer trees. At the bottom of the slope, near the entrance, there is also an archery range.

Address: Bukit Fraser, 49000 Fraser's Hill, Pahang

Contact: 09-362 2195

Operating Hours: 8.30 am-6.30 pm
(Monday - Sunday)

Bird Interpretive Center

The Bird Interpretive Center, located in the Sports Complex opposite Puncak Inn Hotel near the town roundabout, is a gallery of local and migratory bird species recorded from Fraser's Hill. The facility is open on weekends from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. and is free to enter. During the week, visitors can ask the Puncak Inn personnel to open the doors.

Over 250 species of birds, including hornbills, doves, pheasants, eagles, and other indigenous species, have been documented here, making it one of Fraser's Hill's most popular tourist and visitor activities. Migratory birds from Russia, Japan, and China visit Fraser's Hill at specific seasons to escape the cold winters and find grazing.

Address: Bukit Fraser, 49000 Fraser's Hill, Pahang

Operating Hours: 10 am - 7 pm
(Monday - Sunday)

Edible Garden

Edible Garden is a little agricultural farm and plant nursery on Jalan Ampang, close to Allan's Water. The farm, a tourist attraction, offers free gardening workshops to interested guests. They can also buy decorative plants and flowers, seeds, and even fresh vegetables and harvests cultivated on the grounds on a daily basis, including limited quantities of strawberries.

Strawberries, flowers, and plants are produced in huge greenhouses, while lettuce, tomatoes, and other leafy greens grow along the ground and fences around the compound. The facility is open daily from morning to evening, with a break in the afternoon, and admission is free. The daily harvest of crops is stored for retail in a little shack at the entryway.

Address: 2, Jln High Pines, Bukit Fraser, 49000 Bukit Fraser, Pahang
Operating Hours: 9 am - 5 pm
(Monday - Sunday)

Fraser Hill Public Park

Taman Awam is a public park in Bukit Fraser, located close to the Food Garden on Pine Tree Road. After exiting the Gap, turn left at the roundabout to reach the park. On weekends, it's a favourite destination for families with young children. This beautiful garden setting features a colourful playground on a hill, a tiny asphalt circuit, seats and gazebos, and a backdrop of exotic fir trees.

A little putting course in the back provides lighthearted mini golf for children (sessions with equipment can be purchased from a nearby ticket booth). There are stalls that offer bubble-blowing activities for children on weekends and holidays.

Address: Jalan Pokok Pines, Bukit Fraser, 49000 Bukit Fraser, Pahang
Operating Hours: Open 24 hours
(Monday - Sunday)

GlassHouse Fraser's

The Glasshouse is a small and attractive cafe that doubles as a greenhouse, located at the intersection of Jalan Lady Guillemard and Jalan Valley. You can enjoy a selection of delicacies such as freshly baked cakes and hot refreshments while enjoying the plants and cacti on show, or you can take it outside for a more airy experience. Tables and seats are limited, and it is frequently full, so expect a little wait when you visit.

Operating Hours: 10 am - 6 pm (Closed on Tuesday & Wednesdays)

Ye Olde Smokehouse

This beautiful colonial home, influenced by Tudor style, is a boutique resort on Semantan road. It allows guests to enjoy the quaint English countryside atmosphere, whether they are here for a short stay or just a quick snack. This building's exterior is attractively adorned with antique artefacts and dartworks and lit with soft colours from lights and candles. Traditional English dishes such as Sunday roast and Beef Wellington are served at the restaurant. It is well known for its afternoon tea and warm scones with jam, which are best served outside on the front porch, surrounded by a garden of blooming flowers and the sound of nature.

Lata Tampit Waterfall

Lata Tampit, also known as Ulu Tampit, is a 7-tier waterfall that will appeal to hikers of all skill levels. It's a beautiful and rewarding 40-minute moderately steep woodland journey to reach the level 4 twin falls or the level 5 fall with a swimming pool. If you want to "go chasing waterfalls instead of the rivers and lakes you're used to," you should climb another 15 minutes to distant level 7. Because a Forestry permit is necessary, visitors should hire one of the qualified guides.

Address: Kampung Janda Baik, 28750 Bentong, Pahang
Operating Hours: Open 24 hours

Mount Nuang

Mount Nuang (Malay: Gunung Nuang) is a 1,493-meter-high mountain in Malaysia (4,898 ft). Its summit straddles the states of Pahang and Selangor, and is near to the Pahang-Selangor-Negeri Sembilan boundary tripoint. The mountain is part of the Titiwangsa Mountains and is the second highest point in Selangor (the highest being Gunung Semangkok).

The Malaysian Department of Wildlife and National Parks constructed all three hiking trails to the peak. Two of them begin in Selangor, one at Kuala Pangsoo, Hulu Langat, and the other in Gombak, Kampung Kemensah. The third route begins at Bukit Tinggi in Bentong, Pahang. Genting Highlands may be seen from the peak at night.

TEMERLOH

Temerloh is a well-developed and well-organized town. It is located in Central Pahang and serves as the meeting place for Peninsula Malaysia's East and West Coasts because of the quantity of patin (silver catfish) in this town beside the Pahang River, it is also known as 'Bandar Ikan Patin' (patin town).

According to Malay tradition, Temerloh was not only Batin Seridun's final destination, but also the seat from which he dominated the area between Senyum Mountain to the west and Gebuk Hill to the east. Since its creation on July 1, 1889, Batin Seridun has chosen Temerloh as the name of one of the districts in the state of Pahang.

Getting There

Temerloh is easily accessible by car because it is well connected to other cities. Temerloh is connected to Kuantan, Kuala Lumpur, and other small towns in Pahang via the East Coast Expressway. This motorway will soon connect Kuala Lumpur with Terengganu. Alternatively, a historic trunk road connects Temerloh to other Pahang minor towns such as Jengka, Jerantut, Karak, and Maran.

There are two bus terminals in Temerloh. Longer-distance services (for example, to Kuala Lumpur or Kuantan) depart from the intercity terminal, which is located directly off Jalan Ahmad Shah. Local buses depart from the bus terminal across from the market, for example, to Jerantut for Taman Negara or Kuala Gandah for the Elephant Sanctuary. Buses run every hour from 07:00 to 17:00 from Kuala Lumpur's Pekeliling Bus Terminal, arriving at Temerloh Intercity Terminal around 2.5 hours later. Return travels follow a similar pattern.

Water transport serves the residents of Sungai Semantan and Sungai Pahang. Temerloh Town and Kuala Krau both have a jetty for passengers to embark and depart.

Pahang is a state with several natural elements. It has stunning islands, mountains, woods, and beaches. Genting Highlands, Taman Negara, Cameron Highlands, Kuantan, Fraser's Hill, and many other places are also located here.

Little is known about Temerloh, which is located in Pahang. The town has many kampungs (villages) and is most renowned for its ikan patin supply (catfish). A fascinating tidbit is that the Pahang state Tourism Minister also lives in this town! Isn't it amazing?

A kampung experience is a distant dream for many city people, with little chance of ever being realised. Not to worry! There is now an excellent approach to live the simple life.

5 REASONS WHY TEMERLOH?

Here are 5 things to do in Temerloh.

1

Make a Visit to Krau Wildlife Reserve Temerloh

It was created in 1923 and is Malaysia's largest wildlife reserve, covering an area of 55,159 hectares. After being gazetted again in 1965 and 1968, the area is now 62,395 hectares. It is situated near Benom Mountain in Temerloh District, Pahang, and is drained by the Krau, Lompat, and Teris rivers. The reserve's elevation ranges from 43 metres at Kuala Lompat to 2,107 metres at the peak of Benom Mountain.

The main goal of the reserve is to safeguard animals, particularly Gaur, which can be found in huge populations in places previously inhabited by aborigenes. Gaur can be seen in large numbers in the Krau River valley and in salt licks to the east and south of the reserve. Kuala Lompat has a well-known research site for studying monkeys, bats, and birds.

The Institute of Biodiversity and the National Elephant Conservation Centre are located in the reserve's southern section, accessible via Lanchang. Jenderak Selatan Wildlife Conservation Centre is located on the reserve's eastern boundary with Felda Jenderak Selatan.

Interact with deers in Malaysia's version of Nara Deer Park.

This following site undoubtedly gives Japan's famous Nara Park a run for its money. Since its inception in 1996, Deerland Park has served as a one-stop shop for animal and wildlife enthusiasts. Mr Abdullah, who has cared for these creatures for the most of their lives, owns and runs the park.

The name of the park may be deceptive, as it has numerous smaller species in addition to deer. You can expect to see a wide variety of reptiles, including snakes, frogs, and exotic lizards. Guests will also be greeted by raccoons, prairie dogs, ostriches, peacocks, exotic chickens, hedgehogs, and exotic felines!

Meet and feed rehabilitated elephants

The Department of Wildlife and National Parks established the Kuala Gandah Elephant Sanctuary National Elephant Conservation Centre in 1989. (DWNP). Their main purpose is to relocate wild elephants to areas of the country where they are not a hazard.

This elephant sanctuary allows you to get up and personal with the elephants like you've never seen before! Interact with rescued newborn elephants and observe as the elephants are bathed in the river by the mahouts. Visitors can also feed the gentle giants fruits and nuts. It was thrilling to feel their trunks nuzzle your palms and (literally) suction the food from them!

The park is also free to enter! (Yip-pee!) Guests are also encouraged to make donations of any kind to assist the charity with their relocation programme.

Try traditional sports, such as the Spinning Top!

Nothing says kampung like food and traditional games! The owner of Temerloh's spinning top (or gasing, in Malay) court has spent much of his life practising and perfecting his talents. The court is located at his residence and has even been acknowledged by UNESCO Malaysia! His attempts to preserve this game are very admirable. Visitors can also try their hand at spinning the top, albeit be cautioned that it is more difficult than it appears.

The spinning top court at Kampung Sanggang is an excellent spot for families and friends to socialise and spend time together during their Temerloh kampung visit. Everyone will be pushed to try something new while learning about the culture and history of this classic sport.

Traditional Malaysian cuisine at unbelievable pricing

Temerloh, like many other states in Malaysia, has a variety of food bazaars during Ramadan (the month of fasting). You'd be spoiled for choice with countless permutations of fruit juices and milo contortions, as well as unusual and distinctive foods like blue rice and ikan patin.

Ikan patin (Malay meaning catfish) is one of Temerloh's many specialty meals. Gobang Maju Patin Tempoyak is one of the eateries you should definitely visit during your visit. Tempoyak Ikan Patin is the restaurant's specialty (Patin in fermented durian paste). This dish can be found in a number of local restaurants.

Smiling Mountain Recreational Park

Gunung Senyum, also known as the Smiling Mountain Recreational Park, is a notable archaeological site located 1,549 metres above sea level. It is located on the Pahang River bank, approximately 68 kilometres from Temerloh via Kampung Awah and Felda Jengka 18. The park is part of the Jengka Forest Reserve, which is 794 hectares in size. There are two main mountains inside the park, Gunung Senyum and Gunung Jebak Puyoh, which are surrounded by oil palm plantations of the Jengka Felda programme, with the former being a popular tourist and research destination.

Gunung Senyum is composed of limestone and rock that is considered to be around 3,000 years old, whilst the lowlands to the east are composed of mudstone and shale that is estimated to be around 2,100 years old.

Kuala Gandah Elephant Conservation Centre

The Kuala Gandah Elephant Conservation Centre is an elephant refuge located within the Krau Game Reserve in Temerloh, Pahang, Malaysia. The Malaysian Department of Wildlife and National Parks built the Elephant Relocation Centre in 1989 as a base for the Elephant Relocation Team.

The Centre has been rescuing Asian elephants whose habitats are being destroyed by farming or development since 1974, and moving them to appropriate environments such as Taman Negara. It has raised public awareness and supported research as a major tourist attraction.

Gaur Rehabilitation Centre Jenderak

The Seladang or Guar (bos gaurus) breeding centre in Jenderak, Temerloh, was established in 1982 with the sole purpose of providing a safe haven for the endangered seladang. The centre, which covers around 20 hectares, features 27 animal enclosures and paddocks.

After elephants, the seladang is Malaysia's second largest terrestrial animal. The seladangs, who are shy but gregarious by temperament, used to roam freely in the rain forest, preferring to graze in lowland river valleys. However, logging, combined with widespread land opening for agriculture and construction, pushed the seladang to forsake their natural habitats.

Address: Felda Jenderak Selatan, Kuala Krau, Pahang
Operating hours: 9 am - 4 pm (Monday - Friday)

Perkampungan Orang Asli Che'Wong

Kuala Gandar is an indigenous village that was established by the indigenous community of Che Wong. Suku kaum Che Wong is a branch of the Suku Senoi community, which is only found in the state of Pahang. Kuala Gandar is one of three small towns located on the same side of Tok Batin. Other nearby villages are Sungai Beranti, Lata Tujuh, Bayek, and Sungai Enggang.

The five communities' Orang Asli population is believed to be 400-500 persons. A construction zone is being watched by PERHILITAN personnel in the vicinity of the village of Che Wong.

Titik Tengah Semenanjung

Temerloh is well-known for its wonderful patin fish dishes, as well as the Centre of Peninsular Malaysia (Titik Tengah Semenanjung) attraction. This is a monument at Kampung Paya Siput Lanchang, Temerloh Pahang to highlight the precise midpoint of Peninsular Malaysia, hence the name Centre of Peninsular Malaysia. Peninsular Malaysia's Center is located at latitude 03.29'33" and longitude 102.13'10". T3S is another name for it (Temerloh Titik Tengah Semenanjung).

Deerland Park Lanchang Pahang

Deerland arose because of the innovative ideas of its founder, En. Abdullah Ahmad B. Mahmud. He has spent his own money to develop and maintain this structure. Deerland was constructed and finished in March 1996. This is one of the most significant contributions made by the Pahang state government to the tourism industry. The operators' primary purpose is to assist the government in preserving endangered wildlife. This allows people to experience the natural beauty while also learning about its environment. The concept being attempted here is to allow humans to coexist with nature (animals and plants). 'NATURE RETURNS TO NATURE'
